STRIKE IS SETTLED

Terms Agreed to by Firemen and Georgia Railroad Yesterday.

FEDERAL INTERFERENCE

Was Threatened and Agreement Was Hastened—Negro Firemen of Long Service Will be Retained—Conditions.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., May 29.—The strike of the firemen on the Georgia Railroad was officially declared off at 2 P. M. today. An hour and a half later the first train after the resumption of service was sent out of Augusta with a negro fireman in the cab.

The terms of the settlement were not officially given out but it was learned that they are substantially as follows: The men to return to work under conditions existing at the time the strike began, until final adjustment is made. All negro firemen at the terminal stations will be dispensed with. All discharged Brotherhood firemen will be reinstated.

Three other points are yet to be decided as follows: First, Whether negro firemen shall be eliminated from the road. Second, If not eliminated, what percentage of negroes there shall be. And seniority of negro firemen over white firemen.

These other questions are to be discussed tonight and if they are not adjusted they will be settled by arbitration under the Erdman Act.

The exact terms of the settlement have not been disclosed but the statement is made that the conditions are eminently half satisfactory to both sides.

The settlement of the strike was announced in a statement signed by Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and Charles P. Neill, U. S. Labor Commissioner. It said:

"An amicable adjustment of the differences between the Georgia Railroad and its employes who have been on strike, has been reached on a basis eminently satisfactory to both sides. The strike has been called off and complete train service is to be resumed immediately."

This statement was the result of a conference between Chairman Knapp, Commissioner Neill, General Manager Scott, of the Georgia Railroad; Vice President Ball, of the Firemen's organization. The conference lasted from 11 A. M. until 2 P. M., and every point of issue between the railroad and its employes was carefully discussed.

Commissioner Neill said that both sides made concessions. He added further that he did not believe a complete statement would be made before next week. It is generally understood that the railroad agrees to recognize the seniority of white firemen and that the employment of certain negro firemen who have been with the road many years will be continued. After they are retired no other blacks will be permitted to fire.

Had there not been a settlement of the strike this afternoon it can be stated that Federal interference was imminent. It is reported that both sides were notified that some adjustment must be reached by 6 o'clock today or the Federal courts would take cognizance of the situation. This probably would have meant injunctions which in the present temper of the residents of the strike districts certainly meant resistance, injunction and speedily thereafter the arrival of United States troops. The strike commenced May 17 and lasted 13 days.

SUICIDE AT GOLDSBORO

Young Will Humphrey Despondent Over His Health, Shot Off and Shot Himself to Death. Highly Esteemed.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., May 29.—This entire community is grief stricken over the shocking tragedy that took place near this city today, it being discovered that Mr. Willie Humphrey, nephew of Justice of the Peace Hugh Humphrey, of Goldsboro, and son of the late Robert Humphrey, of Carteret county, had committed suicide by a pistol shot through the mouth and brain.

Both parents being dead, he came here when about 14 years old to make his home with his uncle and has been a steady, reliable and highly esteemed employe in the large department stores of Messrs. H. Weil & Bros., for several years. He was a young man of sterling worth, whose honor and moral character were above reproach, having just reached the age of 21 years with what seemed to be a very bright future in the business world. He had been in bad health though for some time and recently had to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

He had apparently regained his former strength and was back at his post of duty daily, until Thursday and Friday, when he was confined to his room until about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. He made a short visit to his cousin's home just a half block from home, returning to his room to retire for the night, early last evening. It has developed that he had been told that he might have to undergo another operation, and being already very despondent over his condition, the burden was more than he could bear, hence the suicide today.

Early this morning, about 6 o'clock, or a little later, he was seen near the Union Depot walking up the track in the direction of the place where his body was found this afternoon in a neck of woods near Mr. E. B. Borden's farm, about three-quarters of a mile from town. However, nothing was thought or said about that until he was missed from breakfast and inquired for at Wells' store, where it was thought he was at work. His absence there started immediate enquiry all about and careful search. It developed that he had bought a pistol and several cartridges early this morning at one of the hardware stores here and started out to the union depot where he remained until after the departure of the early morning trains, walking out to the place of the tragedy as soon as the last train had left. Several people living on Mr. Borden's farm now report that they heard two or three pistol shots about 8 o'clock this morning but paid no attention to it other than some passing remarks.

So it is thought that the young man shot himself about 8 A. M. today. The body was found about 6 o'clock this afternoon by several parties who went out in automobiles in search of some trace of his wanderings, with evidence that he placed the barrel of the pistol inside of his mouth and shot upward through the brain.

Coroner C. E. Stanley was at once

A STRIKE IN PHILADELPHIA

Over 2,000 Street Car Men Off Duty and Line is Tied Up—Saloons Are Closed and Strikers Are Quiet.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, May 29.—The strike inaugurated today by the conductors and motormen of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company became very serious tonight when street car service in some sections of the city was suspended and in other parts greatly curtailed. This was brought about by gains made late in the day by the strikers and by the withdrawal of cars from several lines running to the suburbs. The sections most affected by the suspension are West Philadelphia, Frankford, in the northeastern section of the city and the outlying districts in the northwestern section. The central part of the city was considerably affected tonight, the service being greatly curtailed.

The company admitted that about 2,000 of the 6,600 men had quit work. The strikers declare that a greater number of men are out.

C. O. Platt, of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, tonight sent a telegram to W. D. Mahon, president of the Association at Detroit, saying that he expected a complete tie-up of street car service.

All the saloons obeyed an order issued by Mayor Reyburn this afternoon to close and while the streets are filled with persons walking to their homes, there was no trouble reported anywhere. Every street car in operation tonight is carrying two policemen and on some lines four of them are in the cars.

Henry Clay, director of public safety tonight said: "We have the situation under control with the saloons closed and 500 extra policemen gathered from the ranks of the city firemen and private watchmen. I am satisfied we can give citizens and private property adequate protection and quell all disturbances."

TAFT TO YALE MEN

President Made Four Speeches and Had Day of Excitement.

A TRIBUTE TO YALE SPIRIT

Enjoyed Game of Baseball Between Chicago and Pittsburg—Spoke at Dedication of Fountain—At Gettysburg Monday.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, May 29.—President Taft thoroughly enjoyed himself today through fifteen hours of play and continuing excitement. He made four speeches at as many different places, rode many miles by automobile and played pitcher in a game of ball at the Allegheny Country Club in the early afternoon and then returning to town sat through the eleven innings of the contest between the Pittsburg and Chicago teams of the National League. The President assisted at the dedication of a fountain in Arsenel Park ,attended a business meeting of the Associated Western Yale Clubs, had luncheon at Sewickely Heights, fourteen miles out of the city, and tonight was the principal speaker at the brilliant banquet which brought to a close the annual sessions of the Western Yale Clubs.

The President during the early part of the day was the guest of the city and State. Later he was turned over to the Yale men.

At the ball game in Pittsburg's half of the "lucky" seventh the President set the crowd to cheering by standing "for luck" with the rest of the great crowd.

All through the game there were calls for cheers for the President, and they were given in great sweeping waves of sound which echoed back from the high hills overlooking the park.

The President made his debut on the diamond at the Allegheny Country Club. Two teams of President and visiting Yale alumni were matched in a ball game and the President pitched the first two balls for the visitors. In the parlance of the game he had little or no speed and utter lack of control, but was taken out of the box before much damage was done. As a matter of fact the two balls which the President threw at the batsman hit the home base and reached the catcher on the first bounce.

"First bounce used to be out," the President protested, but he was unceremoniously relegated to the side lines.

The President's first public appearance was at the Rodeph Shalom Jew Tabernacle where he spoke briefly. Next there was a quick automobile trip to Arsenel Park and another short address. Following this came the meeting of the Yale Clubs where the President paid a tribute to Yale and to the Yale spirit. At the banquet of Yale men tonight the President spoke on the Yale Spirit." He paid Theodore Roosevelt a tribute, saying he had imbued the Government at Washington with the Yale spirit. President Hadley, of Yale, and Judge Henry E. Howard, of the Class of '54, were the other speakers.

The President remains here tomorrow leaving in time for the memorial day exercises at Gettysburg Monday.

TO MAKE MILITIA AFFECTIVE

War Department Will Send Out Lecturers Instructors.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 29.—To effect closer affiliation between the regular army and the organized militia of the various States and to facilitate the instruction of the citizen soldiers, comprehensive orders have been issued by direction of Secretary Dickinson. Upon application of State authorities officers, both commissioned and non-commissioned, will be designated to visit State armories to lecture on military subjects and to give theoretical and practical instruction, the personal expenses incurred by such officers to be borne by the State.

Officers and enlisted men of the organized militia will be encouraged to visit army posts to witness manoeuvres and target practice and commanding officers are to etxend to the militia the use of military reservations, target ranges and army property for instruction purposes.

TRAIN DITCHED, THREE KILLED

Extra Freight and Caboose Ran Into Washout—The Injured.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Mobile, Ala., May 29.—Three men were killed and one seriously injured when an extra freight and caboose of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, shortly after leaving Mobile at 4:20 o'clock this afternoon, ran into a washout about a mile north of the city on the line of the Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City Railroad, over which line all Mobile and Ohio trains in this vicinity are being operated owing to high water. The wreckage is under several feet of water.

TARIFF ON COTTON

Senator Bacon Offers Amendment in Senate Yesterday.

URGED DUTY OF 20 PER CENT

Georgia Senator Declared That It Would Produce Revenue of $4,000,000 Annually—Duty of 45c on Potatoes.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 29.—During two hours before adjournment today, the Senate made more real progress in the adoption of the tariff schedules previously passed over than has been usual during an entire day. Not only were committee amendments that had been formerly reported agreed upon but there were quite a number of additional conditions proposed or accepted by the committee on finance and incorporated in the bill.

Early in the day, in spite of protests voiced by Senators Beveridge and Root, the duty on barley was increased from 25 cents a bushel as proposed by the House, to 30 cents a bushel as recommended by the committee on finance. The tax on hops was advanced. The House had made the duty 12 cents, while the committee on finance had formerly advanced it to 15 cents. Today the committee brought in an additional amendment making the rate 20 cents. The duty on potatoes was made 45 cents per bushel instead of 25 cents, and oysters in the shell were advanced from 3-4 of a cent a pound to 25 per cent. ad valorem, upon motion of Senator Piles, who has an industry in bivalves to protect against Canadian competition.

That there should be a duty of 20 per cent. on raw cotton merely for revenue was advocated by Senator Bacon who stated that from this source would be derived $4,000,000 annually if his amendment should be adopted.

"By offering this amendment," Mr. Bacon said, "I open myself to criticism from those people who cannot distinguish a duty of 100 per cent. and a revenue duty."

Mr. Bacon said importations of ordinary cotton now amount to 20,000,000 pounds and the duty that would be obtained would be four times as much as from all other staple agricultural products combined, sugar excepted. Mr. Bacon agreed to allow his amendment to go over to be considered Monday.

Lemons were the subject of an extended debate. Mr. Root spoke for the New York Lemon Consumers, insisting that the rate of 1 1-2 cents per pound as fixed by the finance committee, was too high.

Mr. Flint, speaking for the lemon growers, supported the advance saying that the lemon industry of his State would be wiped out if this duty was not granted. The schedule was still under discussion when the Senate adjourned.

The report sent by the German government showing wages in Germany was the subject of extended debate for over two hours after the Senate met today. Mr. Aldrich, disavowing any intention to be severe in his characterization, said that any government which transmits its own views or the views of its manufacturers to influence legislation on the tariff rendered itself liable to be regarded as "impertinent." After considerable acrimonious comments, a message from President Taft ended the discussion as it accompanied the very statement on German wages that had been discussed, and Mr. Aldrich, saying he would promptly have it translated into English, and assurance was given that it would soon be printed for the information of everyone.

At 3:50 the Senate adjourned.

UNITED STATES STEEL SHARES

Stock Now Listed on Paris Bourse Giving It Boost.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

Paris, May 29.—Morgan, Harjes and Company have formed a syndicate for the introduction of the common shares of the United States Steel Corporation on the Paris bourse. In financial circles the matter is regarded as of far-reaching importance and as an achievment of the first magnitude for the Morgans'.

The listing of steel common is counted upon as an entering wedge for the genial introduction of American stocks.

New York, May 29.—The news from Paris explains in large measure the recent remarkable strength of the shares of the United States Steel Corportation. Early in the year United States Steel common sold above 53, but with the announcement in February of an "open market" the stock sold off abruptly, touching 41 1-4 on February 23.—It has since advanced to 64 3-8.

Elbert H. Mary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, said today." I know nothing about the report that application has been made to list the securities of the Corporation on the Paris bourse but I presume that it is true for the reason that the French have recently been heavy buyers of United States Steel shares.

NELSON KNOCKS OUT HYLAND

Fighting Was Vicious and Men Show Enmity—They Fought Evenly Until 13th Round—Nelson Was "Hissed."

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Coffroths Arena, San Francisco, Cal., May 29.—Battling Nelson, of Illinois, knocked out Dick Hyland, of California, this afternoon in the twenty-third round of a scheduled 45 round bout. The contest was one of the most vicious ever seen in a local ring. The fight was fairly even up to the thirteenth round, after which Nelson took the lead. Hyland was knocked out by a left hook to the stomach after he had been floored several times in the two preceeding rounds. Betting was 10 to 3 on Nelson to win and even that Hyland wouldn't stay 25 rounds.

Throughout a dozen rounds Hyland and the champion hammered each other with vicious swings and upper cuts that cut short all promise of a 45 round contest. In the early stages Hyland was the master, although it could not be said whether Nelson was extending himself. During the last three rounds, however, the Dane went after his opponent without an instant's rest, knocking him down time after time and staggering the game Californian with blinding volleys of right and left swings to the head, varied by an occasional crushing straight left to the stomach. In the final round Hyland was almost at the champion's mercy. Nelson frequently offered his face as a target while he tried for body blows, but only after the fight was half over. Until the climax the grass valley fighter had confidence in himself, meeting rush with rush, clinch with clinch, and generally carrying the fight to his opponent.

Nelson was hissed continually for his attempts to rough it and throughout the fight the men exchanged unfriendly comments.

The attendance was estimated at 9,000. The receipts were $18,000 of which Nelson received $6,500 and Hyland $1,500.

PLOW FACTORY BURNED.

Fayetteville News Notes of Yesterday. Feud in Rock Fish.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., May 29.—The plow factory and foundry of Thos. Ward, in this city, was destroyed by fire this morning. The factory has been established 20 years, and manufactured a plow that has a wide reputation. The loss from the fire will be several thousand dollars.

In a case growing out of a feud of two years' standing, Dave Dixon was today found guilty of assault with a knife and sentenced to 30 days on the roads or to pay a fine of $100 and costs, while Elisha and Heman Wilson were given 30 days each.

The feud between Dixon and the Wilsons, who are citizens of Rockfish township, this county, reached a culmination some time ago, when Dixon alleges his enemies visited his home and attempted to kill him, though they were acquitted of shooting up Dixon's house. About 25 warrants have been issued by the feudists against each other.

RALEIGH MAN RAN AMUCK

Defeated Politician Threatened to Shoot-Up Home of Prominent Citizen—Crazed With Liquor, It Is Charged.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C. May 29.—Charles D. Wildes, defeated Republican candidate for police justice in the recent municipal campaign and defeated candidate for State Senate at the last general election, was locked in the city prison today, charged with going to the home of R. W. Dunn, and threatening to shoot Mrs. Dunn because she had complained to the police that Wildes and his friends disturbed the neighborhood a few night ago when he had a stag supper.

Wildes had been on a bad spree several days. Friends say his dissipations have unbalanced him mentally. Mrs. Dunn is a daughter of Mayor Wynne and her husband is one of the most prominent business men of the city. At the Dunn residence Wildes asked for Mrs. Dunn and was told by a servant that she was upstairs with a sick baby.

"Tell her come down now, I am going to shoot hell out of her," he is charged with saying. The charge is that he also called to Mrs. Wynne repeating the threat to Mr. Dunn and the police were notified by telephone. Fortunately for Wildes the police arrived first. Wildes had gone into his own house and went readily with the police to the station in patrol wagon. He has not sufficiently sobered for lawyers to confer about getting him out of trouble. A remarkable situation is that he must answer for his offense before Alex Strnach, who defeated him for police justice, and if there is a trial he must be prosecuted by W. B. Jones who defeated him for State Senator and is now city attorney.

Fayetteville	2	8	.200

By making it three straights from Fayetteville yesterday afternoon by the score of 4 to 1, the Sailors took five out of six games for the week and now tie with Goldsboro for second place in the League, Raleigh taking the lead. The Sailors return with the Highlanders to Fayetteville for three games the first of this week and Wilson comes the last three days for games on the home grounds.

Brodie's timely hit and Smith's phenomenal base-running won the game for Wilmington in the fifth inning yesterday while the errors of the Highlanders cinched it in the seventh. Sensatfonal catches by Streaser in left-field for Wilmington and Clemmons in rightfield for the visitors were the features of the game. Otherwise the story by innings is as follows:

First Inning—Lohr flew out to centre; Hart hit safely; Dobson up and Hart out trying second; Dobson singled; Simmons sacrificed; Hines safe second; Clemmons out, third to first. Wilmington: Sharp flew out to first; Streaser to right; Smith drew a pass; Brodie flew out to second.

Second—Whelan out, second to first; Moss drew a pass; Galvin singled; Fullman sacrificed; Waters singled and Moss scored; Lohr was out, short to first. Wilmington: Kite singled; Simmons Sacrificed; Hines safe on error of second; Fox hit safely, scoring Kite; Howard fanned; Sharpe out to first unassisted.

Third—Hart fanned; Dobson out, pitcher to first; Clemmons, second to first. Wilmington: Streaser led off with a little Texas Leaguer over pitcher; Smith sacrificed; Brodie up and Streaser stole third on punk decision of the umpire; Brodie walked; Kite up and Brodie stole second. Streaser being called out on second punk decision of McGuirk; Kite walked; Simmons fouled out to catcher.

Fourth—Whelan safe on Howard's error; Moss up and Whelan caught at second; Moss flew out to deep centre; Galvin fanned. Wilmington: Hines fanned; Fox singled to centre and stole second; Howard flew out on beautiful catch by Clemmons; Sharp was safe on error of Moss; Streaser up and Fox caught at third by catcher.

Fifth—Fullman was safe on wild throw of Simmons to first; Waters popped out to Smith; Lohr singled to right; Hart popped out to short; Dobson out to first. Wilmington: Streaser out, second to first; Smith drove the first one over the plate to left for two bases; Brodie up and Smith stole third; Brodie singled and Smith scored; Kite singled to left; Simmons up and Brodie was out at third; Simmons out, short to first.

Sixth—Clemmons out, pitcher to first; Whelan fanned; Moss singled through short; Galvin out, second to first. Wilmington: Hines fanned; Fox flew to second; Howard fanned.

Seventh—Fullman led off with a single to centre; Waters sacrificed; Lohr flew out to left; Hart flew out on sensational one-hand catch by Streaser, cutting off a two-base hit and a score. Wilmington: Sharp singled to right; Streaser sacrificed; Smith up and Sharp stole third; Smith hit to short and Moss threw into the grandstand while Sharp scored and Smith went to second; Brodie fouled out to catcher and Smith scored on wild throw to first; Kite walked; Simmons singled over second; Hines out, pitcher to first.

Eighth—Dobson out to first unassisted; Clemmons out to third; Whelan fanned. Wilmington: Fox flew out to centre; Howard out, third to first; Sharp flew to left.

Ninth—Moss fanned; Galvin out, second to first; Fullman walked; Waters flew out to Streaser.

THE DEMOCRACY AND THE TARIFF.

The criticism of certain Democrats in the United States Senate with regard to their attitude in the debate on the Aldrich tariff bill, seems to be widespread. The Democratic press in the South and North do not hesitate to enter sharp rebukes, while the Republican press at the North, while tickled to note that it indicates a growing protection sentiment in the South, make jibes at the Democracy for its alleged inconsistency. The New York Tribune (Rep.) makes this utterance touching the tariff leaning of certain Southern Senators who have not been willing to stand by and see everything in the North protected and neglect to secure some of the protection benefits for the South:

"Senator Culberson, the leader of the Democratic party in the Senate, made a speech last week defining the policy to be followed by the minority on the tariff question. He might have saved himself the trouble, for practically every Democrat in the body is now a law unto himself on the tariff issue, and will remain so in spite of Mr. Culberson's entreaties and demonstrations."

We think that the attitude of Democratic Senators on the tariff is as widely misunderstood as it is widely criticised. In the first place the Democracy is not and never was a free trade party, but it is well understood that it has stood for and now stands for a tariff that will produce ample revenues for the purposes of the Government and at the same time afford protection where American industries need it. The Democracy, however, is pretty solid when it comes to opposing a tariff so high that it empties great subsidies into the pockets of the trusts and yields no revenue to the Government.

The Democracy's position is that the tariff duties should be low enough to take some of the burdens off the consumers and not pile up Government subsidies for interests that are thus enabled to combine and exploit the consumers for all they are worth. The opposition of the Democracy and a large element of the Republican masses is to a protective system that is so high that it prevents foreign competition by absolutely prohibiting exports, thus enabling interests to combine and thereby prevent home competition as well as foreign competition.

So far as the Aldrich bill is concerned, the Republicans are responsible to the country for it. The Southern Democratic Senators who voted for some of the protective schedules are abetting in the Aldrich deal. They realize that the Republicans were set and determined in having protection, and the Southern Senators were not willing that it should all go North. As the Democrats are in the minority, they are not there to carry out the Denver platform, but to make the most out of a protective tariff bill that the Republicans are determined to have. The Southern Senators, we have no doubt, stand where they have always stood, in opposition to the free-booting principle of protection, but they certainly would be lacking in good sense and statesmanship to consent to the passage of a Republican tariff bill that protects everything North and protects little or nothing South.

There would be a tremendous howl, if in order to be "consistent," they would demand free trade for the South while the protective benefits would be showered upon the North. The Southern Senators doubtless take the position that where there is a protective tariff all sections should get some of the benefits, and when the tariff is reduced all sections should share in the reduction.

If we are to have a Republican protective tariff all sections should get their share, and that is what Democratic Senators are there to see to. Senator Tillman just about sized up the situation when he declared that if there was going to be any stealing he wanted South Carolina to have her share of the loot.

A great many people seem to forget that the Democratic Senators and Representatives at Washington are not in the majority and therefore cannot carry out the Denver platform as to the tariff. Therefore, the best that they can do is to see that all the protection does not go to the North.

North Carolina has an anti-jag law, and now it is proposed for Congress to pass an anti-jug law.

WORKING FOR YOUR CITY.

The Star has several times called attention to the effectiveness of an organization banded together to work for a city. United efforts, enthusiastic co-operation, and intelligent and systematic promotion by citizens inspired with the advantages and possibilities of their home town are bound to yield results. That is what the work for your city organizations are in business for, and that they do a work of incalculable importance in many different directions has been demonstrated in many instances. One instance furnished by a live North Carolian City will be sufficient to illustrate the proposition and encourage the men of Wilmington who have decided to go to work for their city.

That instance is furnished by Charlotte ,and certainly that city furnishes us a good example of what work for a city will accomplish. The Charlotte News gives it to us in this way:

"A visitor to Charlotte from a neighboring city, in conversation with Mr. C. S. Stone related an incident of interest to members of the Greater Charlotte Club. It seems that the visiting gentleman had at some previous time met and talked with one of the bidders for the last block of Charlotte bonds which sold at a premium. The price which the bidder was ready to pay was a surprise to the other gentleman who asked him how it was that the bidder could afford to offer so high a figure for the bonds in view of the size of the city's indebtedness. The bidder replied:

"'I can tell you in a few words. It is because of the Greater Charlotte Club and the work being done by that organization. Charlotte is becoming better known over the country than other places of its size in the South, and in my opinion the little red-bordered envelope folder published by the Club, and which is sent out by the business houses is the best advertisement the city has ever had. I can sell Charlotte bonds because in the past three years people over the country have been learning that such a town is on the map. Any place with an organization behind it like the Greater Charlotte club is going to prosper and its bonds will be in demand.'"

In the above we see that the Greater Charlotte Club has furnished us the proof of what a live and working organization can accomplish. It not only bends its energies and efforts in promoting the industrial and civic interests of the city but actually promotes the financial standing of the municipality. In all probability the club at its inception had no such object in view, as its main purpose was to secure industries and induce the investment of capital in the up-building of the city by giving publicity to Charlotte's advantages. A great work has been done in that direction and probably it is a pleasant surprise to the members of the club to learn that its work has indirectly promoted the financial standing of their community. They have aided in making it easy for Charlotte to get money on its bonds when it is needed, and it has thus aided the city to float its issues at a low rate of interest and moreover at a premimum. This saves money for the tax-payers and as an investment we can easily see that the Greater Charlotte Club is a good asset for its city. It not only promotes the city's industrial growth but actually makes money for it.

The Star's purpose is thus to emphasize the importance of work for a city, with the specific end in view to encourage the movement inaugurated in Wilmington a few days ago to effect the organization of a club to work for Wilmington. Let every citizen, old and young, join that club and get the inspiration that its work will inspire. Get in the push and you will feel like a live man when you give the elbow touch to the men who are anxious and determined to do something to build up Wilmington.

NORTH CAROLINA ALL RIGHT.

From all that transpired at the recent convention of the North Carolina bankers at Charlotte, this State is in good shape for the revival of business. The Roosevelt panic hit the entire country hard, but it speaks well for North Carolina that she comes out of it in pretty good shape.

Reports submitted to the bankers' convention showed that in spite of the widespread depression 18 new banks were organized in the State during the past year, while the reports further show that the banks generally throughout the State are in good condition.

North Carolina's record during the panic is gratifying. While banks all over the United States were compelled to issue script to meet their obligations few North Carolina banks had to resort to clearing house certificates. None were issued in Wilmington and the panic has passed without this kind of circulating medium in our business circles. The fact is, such script has never been seen by our people generally and they would be curiosities.

This speaks well for Wilmington banks, and the situation generally is a credit to North Carolina. It seems that in spite of the panic and all these long months of depression, business throughout North Carolina is on the road to revival.

Senator Bailey gets into numerous scraps but the fact that the newspaper man gave him a whack with an umbrella shows that the Senator is not a trained fighter. If he expects to stay in the ring he should learn to side-step and duck.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The action of Senator Bailey and his Democratic associates in voting against free iron ore and the action of Democratic Senators in voting against free lumber demonstrate that there is in the United States Senate no such thing as a cohesive party for Democratic tariff reform.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—"I have often been the recipient of gracious courtesy from young women and girls in crowded street cars," says an elderly Buffalo woman. "They are almost invariably much more prompt than men to offer me a seat when they see me standing in the car." Such instances of consideration are very pleasing.—Buffalo Commercial.

—The continued purchase of Seaboard Air Line stock by the Hawley syndicate gives rise to the report that the C. & O. has an eye on the road, which will give it an outlet South and make a fine system. It is evident that the receivership of the Seaboard will be terminated before many months. The Southern and the Coast Line have been casting eyes at it, but to no purpose.—Greensboro Record.

—The trustees of the Baptist University for Women at Raleigh have changed the name of the institution to Meredith College. This name was selected in honor of Rev. Thomas Meredith, pioneer of the Baptist denomination in North Carolina and one among the first to seek the establishment of a college for women. He was also the founder of The Biblical Recorder.—Greenville Reflector.

—So some superfine imported olive oil is, indeed, as many have suspected, nothing but cotton seed oil. And some of it is from American grown cotton, while some is from the cotton of India, Africa and Central Asia. Well, it may be consoling to reflect, such is human nature, that other countries perpetrate frauds as well as we. Perhaps it is not altogether unjust to suspect that some imported champagne bears a closer relationship to apple orchards than to vineyards.—New York Tribune.

—During the five celebrations of the Fourth of July from 1903 to 1907, inclusive, 12,520 persons were injured and 1,153 were killed, according to statistics just gathered. The giant firecracker alone injured 1,489 persons in the celebration of 1907, killed eight and led to the death of eight more from lockjaw. So says one of the medical papers. Now is the time to think about these things. A little thought now will be better than a sorrowful recollection of the facts on July 4. Do not get out of the habit of celebrating the Fourth of July, but try to make it a celebraion without an undertaker's bill.—Buffalo Express.

—The Four C's Company laid by far the most expensive part of Charlotte's new permanent street paving—and this in face of the fact that it had not been called upon to do so. It could have permitted its lighter rails to remain and to have let the city pave in the bitulithic, but instead, it relaid its tracks with rails that will last for years and paved its right-of-way with vitrified brick, making an expensive but a permanent job and one that eliminates the necessity of tearing up for repairs. The action of the aldermen in deciding not to impose a heavier burden of taxation on the street car company, therefore, is to be commended.—Charlotte Chronicle.

TWINKLINGS.

—"Have you forgotten you owe me $5?" "No, not yet. Give me time, and I will."—Judge.

—"I detest a liar above everything." "Well, you're certainly not egotistical."—Bohemian.

—"Your lips were intended for kisses—So red, so sweet and so splendid." "You're wrong," (The reply was the Miss's) "My kisses are for my intended."—Cleveland Leader.

—"Every rainstorm," complained the youthful pessimist, "means a postponed game." "And every postponed game," pointed out the juvenile optimist, "means a double-header."—Kansas City Journal.

—Considerate—"How do you tell bad eggs?" queried the young housewife. "I never tol dany," replied the fresh grocery clerk, "but if I had anything to tell a bad egg, I'd break it gently."—Christian Guardian.

—"Since you got married you are late every morning," complained his employer. "Well," explained the breathless clerk, "I have to button up the ashes and shake down a shirt waist and carry out the furnace every morning."

—The Danger—"What we want," said the fervid speaker, "is a man who is not afraid of a trust." "Yes," answered Senator Sorghum, "and at the same time we don't want one who is so fearless that he will eat out of its hand."—Washington Star.

—A Straight Tip—Johnnie (to new visitor)—"So you are my grandma, are you?" Grandmother—"Yes, Johnnie! I'm your grandma on your father's side." Johnnie—"Well, you're on the wrong side, you'll find that out."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

—Logical Reason—Jinks—Have you selected a trade or profession for your boy?" Winks—"I shall make a plumber of him." Jinks—"Has he a bent that way?" Winks—"He's born for it. Tell him to do a thing immediately, and he won't think of it again for a week."—Tit-Bits.

HAPPENINGS AND DOINGS

IN SOCIETY

By M. H.

Miss Margaret Bridgers is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Johnson, of Charlotte.

Miss Marguerite Holladay returned on Wednesday last, having attended the Davidson commencement for several days.

Miss Helen Strange left during the past week for Tarboro, N. C., where she will be the guest of Miss Isabel Clark for a short visit.

Mr. Clarence D. Maffitt returned from Winston-Salem on Monday night having spent several days there visiting friends.

Mrs. P. L. Bridgers, who was in Charlotte for several days attending the May Twentieth Celebration, returned to Wilmington during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Lynch were in the city for several days during the past week, as the guest of Mrs Lynch's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Wm. H Green.

Mrs. Cameron Waddell, of Asheville, N. C., arrived in the city on Tuesday afternoon, last, en route to Wrightsville Beach, where she is stopping with Mrs. Annie Northrop.

The many friends of Miss Duralde Borden are delighted to see her in Wilmington again. Miss Borden has been attending school in Atlanta, and has been greatly missed by a large circle of friends.

Friends of Mr. Raymond Humphreys, who has been doing some special engineering work in South Carolina, at Ferguson, were delighted to see him in the city for several days during the past week.

Mr. George Meares, who has been a student at Chapel Hill during the past session, returned home during the week. Mr. Wn.. A. Wright, Mr. Louis Poisson and Mr. Robert Strange, who have also been attending school away from Wilmington, returned to the city recently.

Miss Maryin, of St. Louis, who has been the guest of Lieutenant and Mrs. Mr. Green, at Fort Caswell, and who is pleasantly known to a number of Wilmington's young society people, returned to St. Louis on Wednesday last, going via Richmond, where she will visit friends for a short while.

Miss Marguerite Short left on Monday for New York City, where she will spend several days, sailing from New York for a trip abroad. Miss Short will be absent for several months, and will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends here, who wish her a very pleasant voyage and a safe return.

Mr. W. Percy Van Ness, of Augustine, Fla., spent several days in the city during the past week as the guest of Mr. Graham Kenan, at the Carolina Apartments. Mr. Van Ness is a musician of some note, having recently composed an opera, and is well known in musical circles in New York and the South.

Mrs. H. J. MacMillan was the hostess of an informal bridge party, on Tuesday afternoon, at her home at Winter Park Gardens, given complimentary to Miss Drane, the guest of Miss Julia Parsley. The entertainment was most informal, only two tables being played, but it was none the less enjoyable, and served to pass a most pleasant evening for Mrs. MacMillan's guests.

The following has been received in handsomely engraved invitations:

Mrs. S. H. Hodgin
requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of her granddaughter
Flora Ella McNeill
to
Mr. Hiram Silas Kirkpatrick
on Wednesday evening, June the second at a quarter after seven o'clock
Antioch Presbyterian Church
Red Springs, North Carolina.

Mrs. Lossie deRosset Myers and Mrs. French left during the past week, for Washington, N. C.; Mrs. Myers having left on Tuesday and Mrs. French on Sunday, Mrs. Myers and Mrs. French attended the Diocesan Council as delegates from the St. James Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, returning to the city on yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. D. MacMillan, Jr. and Mrs. deRosset also left for Washington during the past week, to visit friends, and were also attendants upon the council.

Friends have received prettily engraved invitations bearing the following announcement:

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Howard Paddison request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter daughter
Katherine
Mr. Hugh Overstreet
Thursday, June tenth nineteen hundred and nine at four o'clock
Presbyterian Church

An outing of several days has been enjoyed by a number of young ladies and gentlemen at Mrs. Geo. Parsley's cottage, on Wrightsville Beach, the affair being a house-party, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Reaves, and Mrs. Parsley, and extending from Saturday of last week until Wednesday. A delightful time was spent by those composing the party, who were Misses Nellie Durham, Bessie Loder, Blanche Parsley, Theresa Parsley and Mary Owen Green, and Messrs. M. B. Rahm, DeHay, Stalnaker, Reynolds and Hunter.

Of those resident on the beaches and at their Summer homes near Wilmington, might be mentioned Mr. and Mrs. Junius Davis and family; and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Worth and family, on Greenville Sound; Mr. Cazaux and family, on Masonboro Sound, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Parsley, Masonboro, and Mrs. Harriss Northrop and Miss Annie Northrop, on Wrightsville Beach. The approaching week will doubtless witness a number of other removals to the beach, as the season is now ripe for the enjoyment of the many pleasures afforded there.

The following handsomely engraved invitations recently received will be of interest to those who are acquainted with Mr. Fishback, who has a number of friends here by whom he is very pleasantly and warmly remembered. Mr. Fishback visited Wilmington some two years ago, as the guest of Mr. W. P. Emerson, and has many friends here who extend their congratulations to him:

Capt. and Mrs. James Walle Wilmott request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Lillian,
to
Mr. Davis Ervin Fishback,

The Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters requests that those who desire to give books to the organization, for the Circulating Library at the Beach this Summer, send same to them at the earliest possible moment. The Ministering Circle desires to open the Library on June 1st, and especial attention to this matter will be greatly appreciated by them. The Ministering Circle has accomplished much good in the past, and this particular feature of its work deserves the hearty co-operation of the public at large. Further information in regard to the Library may be obtained from the members of the King's Daughters, and it is hoped that sufficient interest may be manifested in the subject to enable them to increase their efforts in this direction.

Mr. Clarence Maffitt was the host of another of his delightful boating parties on Tuesday evening, given complimentary to Miss Eliza Drane, of Edenton, N. C., who is the attractive guest of Miss Julia Parsely. The party left the city in the launch "Scuppernong," going up the Cape Fear river for some distance and returning, up the Northeast, thence down the river for a short distance, after which the guests were invited to Captain Maffitt's store, where an informal dance was indulged in. Delicious refreshments were served en route, and the evening was spent most enjoyably by every one present. The guests were, other than Miss Drane, the guest of honor, her hostess, Miss Pasley, Miss Isabel Williams, Miss Nellie McMillan, Miss Lina deRosset, and Miss Mamie Clark; Mr. Maffitt, the host, Mr. T. H. Wright, Dr. Causey, Mr. Octave Wiggins, George Thomas and Henry Short.

Miss Julia Parsley was the hostess of a most enjoyable morning bridge party on Wednesday morning, given complimentary to her guest, Miss Drane, of Edenton. During the course of the entertainment, beautiful bunches of sweet peas of every imaginable color, were presented to Miss Parsley's guests, while Miss Drane, the guest of honor, was presented with a very pretty brooch. Masses of sweet peas and greens tastefully arranged throughout the parlors created an added charm to the entertainment. Refeshments were served in courses and concluded a most enjoyable affair. Miss Parsley's guests were, Miss Drane, Miss Mary Wiggins, Mrs. Emmet P. Crow, Miss Lucy Bridgers, Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. H. J. MacMillan, Miss Louise Bunting, Miss Mary Lucas Cantwell, Miss Nellie MacMillan, Mrs. Thos. W. Davis, Miss Elizabeth Burruss, Mrs. R. A. Parsley, Miss Theodore LeGrand, Mrs. Geo. Crow, Miss Mary Payne, Mrs. J. O. Carr, Miss Carrie Moore.

The Tidewater Power Company has on tapis for Monday night, another extravagantly spectacular dance, this particular occasion to be one of especially beautiful design. It is called the "Butterfly Dance," and preparations are being made for elaborate decorations and a large crowd will doubtless attend, weather conditions being auspicious. The Flower Dance on last Monday night was highly successful and was well attended, in spite of the prevailing cold winds. The ceiling and walls of the ball room were beautifully decorated with handsome tissue paper designs and large clusters of sweet peas, chrysanthemums and other flowers. Much credit is due Mrs. Booker for the artistic manner in which these decorations were designed. During the course of the evening, bouquets of real sweet peas were presented to the dancers, and this feature was decidedly pleasant and added greatly to the enjoyment of the participants. The Power Company's efforts in this direction have met with the greatest success, in the past and it will be a pleasure to know that they anticipate the presentation of an especially beautiful dance during the middle of the approaching month, the details of which are now being arranged and which will be announced later. Suffice it to say, however, that from the description of the dance as it is now being arranged, it will easily

RAIL AND WATER

It is reported that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has placed an order for 420 tons of bridge steel.

Within the past several months the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad has placed orders for fifty freight locomotives and 1,200 freight cars. The last order reported being for 500 additional steel hopper bottom, 50-ton coal cars from the Pressed Steel Car Company.

The organization of the Western and Georgia Railway Company, recently chartered, has been perfected. The company proposes to build a line of road thirty-five miles long, from Franklin via Newnan to Aberdeen, on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway in Florida.

Mt. Airy Breeze: It is understood that a large and representative body of our citizens will go to Statesville on the 28th to talk railroad. We are pleased to know this and hope for the best results. It is a most encouraging sign to see so many of our citizens taking such deep interest in the future advancement of our section."

Baltimore Sun: "Of the 550 employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, not inclusive of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern or subsidiary lines, now on pension roll half the number were in active service 40 and more years, 49 of them exceeding 50 or more years and one rounding out a full 60 years. The combined years of service of these veterans aggregate nearly 12,000 years, which is an average of 44 1-2 years each. This is said to be a record showing of continuous duty with a single corporation. Forty three of these pioneers in American railroading are 80 and more years old, 13 of them have passed their eighty fifth milestone and 2 are reaching beyond their ninety-first."

New York, May 25.—The Interborough Rapid Transit Company, operating the city subway, announced today that a modified plan for the construction of another subway to connect Brooklyn, Manhattan and the Bronx, and to cost $100,000,000, would be filed with the Public Service Commission within a few weeks. The proposal will not be submitted formally until Governor Hughes has signed the Travis-Robinson bill authorizing construction of subway routes with private as well as public funds. The Manhattan portion of the proposed interborough system follows practically the Broadway-Lexington avenue route planned by the Public Service Commission, but in Brooklyn it goes up Broadway, Williamsburg, to Lafayette avenue, through the most thickly populated section, ignoring the Fourth avenue route to Coney Island, long planned by the commission. In a communication sent to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in regard to the Broadway-Lexington avenue route this morning, the commission asked approval of a modification of plans so as to allow the double-decking of the four tracks between Houston street and the Harlem river. By double-decking the tracks it will be possible to build the entire structure within the street lines and thus avoid an expenditure of $10,000,000 for real estate where stations are to be erected.

Lincoln, Neb., May 25.—At the annual banquet of the Lincoln Commercial Club last night W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central Railroad, made the principal speech, taking for his subject "Transportation Questions." President Brown said, in part: "One of the crying evils of railway management in the past and nothing but the strong arm of the law would ever have stopped it, was the practice of discrimination in favor of large shippers as against those that shipped little, giving of rebates, the distribution of passes to procure the business. We all believed—the shipper as well as the railroad—that it was legitimate to give to a shipper whose business amounted to 1,000 cars per annum a lower rate than was given to him who shipped but one car in a year. In other words, we all honestly believed that the wholesale and retail principal had a legitimate and legal place in the transportation business of the country, as it has always had and still has in all other commercial transactions. We know better now. We know that the man who ships little, no matter how little, must have the same unit price, whether by the 100 pounds or by the carload, as the man who ships much, no matter how much. As a result of past conditions, the public rose in indignation, and it is a serious question today whether the pendulum has not swung a great deal too far in the opposite direction."

MR. GORE TO THE BANKERS

Promptness in Little Things as Well as in Large Things Subject of Recent Address at Rockingham by Mr. D. L. Gore.

Mr. Toastmaster, members and fellow guests of the Country Bankers' Association:

"Faith, Hope and Charity" as spoken of in the Bible, are no more essention in religion than are honesty, truthfulness and promptness in the business world; and while I mention promptness last, it is by no means least. If a man is honest and truthful and not prompt, he cannot be a good business man, by any means. Someone said: "He who gives promptly, gives twice," and when you send your collections to your banker and he remits promptly, you get the use of your funds and the transaction is both pleasant and profitable.

I think I read in The United States Investor not long since that some of the bank of West Virginia were as long as three months in remitting for collections—they use other banks' funds as banking capital; and while we hope that there is no bank in this State that would withhold collections for such purpose, there are banks which are slow about remitting. Some time ago it took one bank in this State 24 days to find out that a bank to which a collection was sent, had not received the collection, and in the meantime the maker of the paper had failed. The local bank wrote several letters, during the interval, to find out why the paper was not paid. This was gross carelessness; it had passed beyond the pale of promptness.

A good many of us bankers feel a little proud of our calling and think we rank a little higher than some of other callings. We are wrong. It matters not what a man does, so it is an honest calling, and he does it well; it is just as honorable as banking, and it is never done well unless he uses integrity, courtesy and promptness; in fact, no man can be a well-rounded or first-class business man, unless, he is prompt ,and the bankers should be the last profession to allow tardy or slow work to be done in their banks—while the president or active officer in charge should see that all the detail work of his bank is done promptly.

The executive officer should be a judge of men and weed out all inefficient subordinates. This reminds me of Mr. Armour, the meat packer. When he was asked if any one trait in his make-up, more than any other, was the cause of his great success, he said he did not know, unless it was his being a pretty good judge of a hog, and especially a two-legged hog! We sometimes have to deal with two-legged hogs in all walks of life.

Not two months ago, a good business man said to me: "Mr. Blank is the best banker here," and as he had said the same thing to me before, I asked him why, and he said he was the most prompt man in remitting collections, answering inquiries; in short, attended to all business promptly.

Some years ago I heard a commission merchant spoken of as a good business man several times, and I asked why a good commission merchant, and they said he was prompt in sending sales and remitting proceeds, and as a rule was correct. I think the man I asked, said: "Prompt and always correct." That was years ago, and he might have always been correct them, but that breed has all died out now, and we have a species who do sometimes make mistakes.

I could talk on this thing for a day, but what is the use? S me man said he expected his clerk to make mistakes, but he did not want him to make the same mistake twice. Now if there is anyone here who is not prompt in his transactions, if this impression will burn or stick in his brain "don't make the same mistake twice" and he acts up to the impression. I will feel that I have not lived my 62 years in vain. There is nothing like conducting business on business principles.

Philadelphia's Premier Beauty.

This young lady, the exquisite beauty of whose complexion has aroused the greatest admiration amongst the members of Philadelphia's fashionable younger set, recently confided to a few girl friends the secret of her extraordinary facial loveliness. The secret could not remain one long, and gossip in society circles tells us that this young woman had been greatly annoyed by many dark brown freckles, which obstinately defied removal until she became a user of Nadinola Facial Cream. With its aid, however, she not only quickly and easily banished these unsightly blemishes, but was also rejoiced to find her skin left in every way more beautiful than before—healthy, clear, soft and velvety, with all the freshness and exquisite loveliness of a perfect complexion. Nadinola Cream is sold in every high class drug store, 50c and $1 the package.

surpass anything ever given at this popular resort, and will be greatly enjoyed by both spectators and dancers. A special dance is also being arranged for the convention of the South Carolina Bankers Association, which convenes here June 17th and which dance will be given complimentary to the members of the Association and their families. Attractive invitations are being prepared for the occasion, and the affair will be one of a delightful social nature. In this connection, it may be of interest to state that the first day of June will see he beach season well opened, with the arrival of the full orcehstra of ten pieces, the opening of the Seashore Hotel, the Marion Seaside Home, and many private cottages. The wonderful work done by the Marion Seaside Home during past seasons is well known, but it cannot be too greatly emphasized, for the good that is done the little children of the poor of the city, as well as the children of those who are able to pay for the service, merits the highest commendation of this work. As in the past, the Home will be in charge of the most competent trained nurses and a visiting staff of physicians, whose best skill and attention will be at the command of the little patients.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius VanLeuven moved to Wrightsville Beach yesterday, where they will spend the Summer.

Mr. H. C. McQueen and daughter, Miss Sue McQueen, are spending some time quite pleasantly at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Mr. Alexander Sprunt returned on Friday last from Davidson, and is being warmly welcomed by his many friends in this city.

Miss Bessie Bridgers will leave for Princeton on Wednesday next to attend the commencement exercises, dances, etc, at that university.

Miss Florence Kidder will be among the young ladies who will attend the commencement exercises at the University of North Carolina, and will leave for Chapel Hill on Monday.

Friends of Miss Margaret Bridgers will be interested to learn that she is expected to return during the coming week, after spending the past two months visiting friends in various cities.

Among the University students who have returned from Chapel Hill during the past week are Messrs. Rufus Hicks and David Murchison. Their many friends are glad to welcome them home again.

The many friends in this city of Miss Jean Pemberton, of Fayetteville, will regret to know that she will return to her home, after spending the past month in Wilmington, where she has been a popular visitor.

Miss Lila Keith, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Keith, returned home on Wednesday afternoon from the Baptist Female University, at Raleigh, which institution she has been attending for the past scholastic year, perfecting herself in art as well as other branches. Miss Hattie Sue Hale, who graduated at the Baptist University this year, also returned home the past week.

The signal artistic success of the May Festival, given under the auspices of the North Carolina Sorosis, is a cause of much congratulation to all those interested in the spread of culture and a deeper appreciation of music. Much has been said commendatory of the various performers in this entertainment, and especial praise is due Mr. E. H. Munson for the wonderful success achieved in the training of the chorus. It is pleasant to know that the Sorosis also netted a small sum over and above the large guarantee, which fact is very gratifying to those interested in the matter.

Whiteville, N. C., May 29.—On Thursday evening at 9 o'clock the young ladies and gentlemen of the Whiteville society gathered at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McRackan, the guests of Miss Mollie Bell Hollowell in honor of Miss Folsom, of Newbern, N. C. The veranda was brilliantly illuminated with Japanese lanterns. The parlor and dining room were tastily decorated with ferns and other potted plants. After all the guests had arrived at the tap of a bell the merry party began to play a very interesting and exciting contest of "Progressive Up Jinks." The prize was won by Mrs. W. E. McDaniel and Mr. Spears Hicks which was very gracefully presented to the guest of honor. Delicious refreshments were served by little Misses Margaret Crowell and Mae Formyduval. The following were present: Miss Luola High, Mr. Wayland Williamson; Miss Lizzie Toon, Mr. Robert Powell; Miss Iola Baldwin, Mr. Martin Schulken; Miss Ethel Maultsby, Mr. Price Williamson; Miss Alma Maultsby, Mr. Spears Hicks; Miss Ruth Geddie, Mr. Felix Smith; Miss Lucie Powell, Mr. Bob White; Miss Annie Walters, Mr. W. Diamond Dust

Who said the Sailors were all in?

If the present improvement continues patrons of the East Carolina will soon be treated to a class of ball few of the larger places enjoy.

The past week's work of the Sailors indicates they've shaken off the stiffness of a Winter's hibernation, found their sea-legs, and have hit the proper stride on the bunting route.

Sharp located his batting lamps in Raleigh Wednesday, corralling a deuce of triples, and a double, and has been rapping 'em out ever since.

And Captain Smith has also commenced to maltreat the horsehide in a style pleasing to the hearts of the fan.

The new men have shown up well. Simmons and Brodie are fielding faultlessly, and both batting strong. Sexton's work Thursday was also of a satisfactory order.

The Wilson fans are still manufacturing thinks on how Goldsboro managed to find their Mighty Andy's damp slants for thirteen safe bingles in last Thursday's game. Wilmington was the only team that could solve Anderson's saliva twisters last season.

Levy's peculiar underhand delivery and active movements on the rubber makes him a dangerous man for his opponents to face; and his headwork and quickness of eye when the bases are occupied are a terror to would-be pilferers.

Watch that same Levy: Before another blue moon, at his present pace, he's destined to create a loud noise in baseball. For a pitcher his batting is remarkable.

To the dopist, Wilmington should easily take four of the six games to be pulled off the coming week.

Five out of six is not bad!

The swatfests with Fayetteville have materially fattened the Sailors' batting averages.

With Howard, Wysong, Levy and Sexton pitching gilt-edge ball, and the infield and outfield working well, Wilmington should soon be roosting in first place.

The franchise of the Portsmouth, Va, Club has been sold to a Richmond Syndicate.

"Pitcher Fred Stoehr, who established a world's record last season in the Carolina League by pitching 12 innings without allowing a hit, has been turned over to the Goldsboro (EC) Club by the Roanoke Association."—Sporting Life.

"From all accounts the Reading infield is as fast as any minor league that can be found in the country"—Sporting Life. And Rathy is starring on third.

The Chicago Nationals, with Reulbach in the box, was shut out by Readign, 3 to 0, on the 23rd, in an exhibition game.

Pitcher Henley made the longest hit in the history of Recreation Park, San Francisco, the other day, the "Examiner" remarking he is a most unusual slugger for a member of the twirling corps—must be a regular Levy.

In the New York-Cincinnati game of May 15 the play was remarkable for the large number of assists made, 25 by the former and 19 by the last named, a total of 44, which denotes extraordinary fast fielding.

First Baseman Rohn, of Atlanta, had only one put-out to his credit in a recent full game against Birmingham.

If Bugs Raymond keeps up his present gait with the Giants, the peerless Matty will have to look up some to win the bet made with him by the erratic moist-flinger, that he'd show a larger percentage of wins at the season's close than Matthewson himself. Bugs has a tally-stick and notches it faithfully.

Big Chief Meyers whom New York secured for assist catcher, on account of both his masking and hitting, is about to work Schlei out of the position of regular man.

It is reported from Detroit that waivers have been invited on George Suggs, pitcher, whose poor condition is said to come from lack of work. Rossman, first baseman, will also probably be released.

Roger Bresnahan, in his triple role of captain-manager-catcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, is getting more out of the team than anyone who has previously handled it.

Jiggs Donohue has joined, and been made captain of, the Washington American.

THE MARION SEASIDE HOME

Will Open at Wrightsville Beach June 1st—Rules and Regulations For Government of the Institution.

The Board of Managers of the Marion Seaside Home, Wrightsville Beach, N. C., announces that through the generosity of one of Wilmington's most public spirited citizens, the Home will be opened for the reception of patients June 1st. Preparations are being made to have the Home thoroughly equipped by that date, and a most successful season is looked forward to.

The Home was opened in 1907, and that year 28 babies were treated, a total number of 258 days, and 14 mothers were furnished board, a total number of 130 days.

During 1908 (last season) 61 babies were treated, a total number of 643 days, and 29 mothers were furnished board, a total number of 330 days. Now that it has been demonstrated that the Home is a necessity, the management hopes to have the continued support and good will of the general public.

Both pay and charity patients are received at the Home, and the board wishes to emphasize the fact that those unable to pay will be treated with as much kindness and consideration as those more fortunate, the prime object of the Home being for such cases.

The institution is open to the medical profession, and private patients can select their own physician if they so desire it.

The Board of Managers consists of Mr. Marcus W. Jacobi, president; Mr. Swift M. Boatwright, secretary; Dr. Charles P. Bolles, Jr., treasurer; Dr. E. J. Wood and Dr. Joseph Akerman.

Mrs. Helen G. Lane is matron, and Miss Julia E. Saunders, head nurse. A thoroughly competent assistant nurse to do night duty will shortly be appointed. Other nurses will be employed as occasion demands it.

The Home has the hearty support of the medical profession ,and the New Hanover County Medical Society at a recent meeting appointed the following visiting staff for this season: Dr. C. T. Nesbit, Dr. R. H. Bellamy, Dr. J. C. Wessell, Dr. M. M. Caldwell and Dr C.has. T. Harper.

The consulting staff is composed of Dr. E. J. Wood, Dr. Joseph Akerman, Dr. C. P. Bolles, Jr., Dr. S. E. Koonce, Dr. J. G. Murphy and Dr. T. M. Green.

RULES

1. No contagious diseases will be treated.

2. Infants and children under the age of ten years will be received, when in the judgment of the board they are proper subjects for treatment.

3. All applications for admission shall be addressed to the matron, who shall refer the same to the proper committee, and upon their certificate said applicant shall be admitted.

These applications will be received and passed upon and children received in order of application, unless in the judgment of the board the case demands immediate attention.

4. Parents of children will not be cared for in the home unless in the judgment of the board their presence is necessary for the welfare of the child.

5. In the event of any interference on the part of parent or friends, the child will be discharged from the Home at once.

6. If parents or guardians desiring the admission of their children are able to defray the expenses of the child, they will be required to pay one week's charges in advance. Money thus received will be turned into the treasury of the Home and applied as other funds.

7. The matron shall diligently and carefully attend with the co-operation of the nurses to the morals, diet and health of the children, and the general order and economy of the Home.

It shall be the duty of the matron to see that all rules and regulations for government of the Home and the grounds are strictly observed by the employes and inmates of the Home.

On the first of each month or at any time required by the Board, furnish a full list of all articles purchased and donated during the previous month, together with a detailed account showing all expenditures.

She shall make an inventory of all property belonging to the Home, shall see that the children are kept clean, and their clothes in order.

Shall be present while children are taking their meals, shall receive visitors and treat them with politeness.

Under the instructions of the Board of Managers, she shall engage and discharge servants and help, and for insubordination, neglect of duty, or other good cause, may without awaiting the action of the Board discharge them.

She shall also see that a sufficient quantity of wholsesome food is furnished and properly prepared for each meal.

The servants and employes shall receive their orders immediately from the matron or nurses, and shall conduct themselves in strict conformity with the rules of the Home.

The matron and nurses shall be respectful and kind to the inmates, and shall act impartially towards them, and none of them shall be engaged in any other business or vocation during the term of their employment in the Home.

Rooms and halls shall be swept every morning and shall be scoured as often as necessary.

Bedding shall be aired and clean linen furnished as often as necessary.

Inmates shall not leave the Home without permission of matron, and all must be respectful to those in authority.

No boarders or lodgers shall be allowed at the Home under any circumstances. Meals will not be furnished those visiting patients.

8. Persons admitted to the Home, not complying with the rules established for its government, or whose personal habits or conduct may be such as to disturb the peace and comfort of the other occupants and endanger the discipline of the institution must be discharged.

9. The nurses shall have charge of children under treatment, the preparation and administering of their food, and shall carry out such instructions as are given them by physicians in charge.

Shall enter names of children admitted in a book with ages, date of admission and discharge from Home and their complaint, names and residences of their nearest relatives, and such information relating to them as Board may deem useful.

The head nurse shall give in writing on the first of every month, or at any time required by Board of Managers, a report of the condition of the children, together with any suggestions tending to the improvement of the Home and the welfare of the inmates.

In case of an accident of serious character or extreme illness of any inmate, the head nurse shall immediately send for the attending physician or physicians, and shall inform the president of the Home.

The visiting hours shall be from 2 to 4 P. M. Visiting shall not be permitted at other hours.

The head nurse shall be responsible for the efficiency and faithfulness of the members of the nursing staff, and shall be in constant attendance upon the patients from 7 A. M. until 7 P. M.

The assistant nurse shall be in constant attendance upon the patients from 7 P. M. until 7 A. M., during which time she shall be responsible for the quality of the nursing service.

Such other nurses as may be in attendance at the institution shall be under direction of the head nurse, and shall be responsible to her alone for the quality of their service.

The head nurse of the assistant nurse shall be constantly in attendance.

It shall be the duty of the head nurse to follow implicitly the directions of the attending physicians, and to render them every assistance in care and treatment.

10. The visiting staff shall be appointed by the New Hanover County Medical Society from its membership in good standing.

The visiting staff shall render all professional service necessary to ward patients without remuneration.

The visiting staff shall also attend patients in the private rooms, if such patients desire its services, and shall not accept remuneration for such service, unless such patient is the private patient of the staff member.

Each member of the visiting staff shall register the hour of his visit to the institution in a book provided for the purpose at the institution.

The plan for visiting for members of the staff must be announced to the Board of Managers at the beginning of each monthly period. Strict adherance to this plan will be expected by the Board of Managers.

A member of the visiting staff who undertakes the treatment of a patient shall continue his service until the termination of the period of his service, or the discharge of the case.

Each member shall make as many visits as shall be necessary for the welfare of the patients and the uninterrupted progress of treatment.

11. The Home will under no circumstances furnish nursing services or supplies to any one outside of the institution.

Rates—Wards, $7 per week; private rooms from $2 to $3 per day. All charges to be paid weekly in advance. Patients not able to pay charges will be admitted to wards free.

MEET HERE TOMORROW.

Annual Gathering of Eastern Carolina Rural Mail Carriers.

The annual meeting of the members of the Eastern North Carolina District Association of Rural Mail Carriers will be held in this city tomorrow. The sessions of the convention, the first of which begins at 10 o'clock, will be held in the Elks' Temple. Delegates will be selected to the State convention, which will be held in Charlotte July 5th and 6th, and officers for the ensuing year will be elected, besides other business of importance will be transacted. Following the transaction of the business the convention will resolve itself into a social session which will prove a feature of the gathering.

NEGRO SHOT AT BURGAW.

Brought Here Yesterday Afternoon for Medical Attention.

Watson Croom, colored, 24 years old, of Burgaw, was brought to this city on the evening train yesterday and carried to the James Walker Memorial Hospital for attention for a dangerous pistol shot wound received yesterday morning. It was stated that the negro was shot by his wife, but whether it was an accident was not stated. The negro was attended by Dr. Ralph B. Seem, who pronounced his wound as serious, the bullet having entered the stomach and pierced the liver.

Kills to Stop the Fiend.

The worst foe for 12 years of John Deye, of Gladwin, Mich., was a running ulcer. He paid doctors over $400.00 without benefit. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve killed the ulcer and cured him. Cures Fever sores, Boils, Felons, Eczema, Salt Rheum. Infallible for Piles, Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Corns. 25c at R. R. Bellamy's.

LOCAL DOTS.

—On account of Federal Memocial Day, holiday hours will be observed at the postoffice tomorrow.

—The Free Will Baptist Church will have baptizing at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Branch, Rev. J. H. Hobbs officiating.

—A special meeting and service at Christ Congregational church, for men only, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The service will be conducted by the pastor.

—Judge J. A. Erwin will preach a special sermon at the Christian church this evening on the theme, "The Plan of the Ages." This is one of the illustrated sermons given weekly at this church.

—Rev. W. L. Cuninggim, presiding elder of the Wilmington district, will preach the third quarterly sermon this morning at Trinity Methodist church. Rev. W. L. Rexford, the pastor, will conduct the evening service.

—Lossie Hill, colored, was tried before Justice Bornemann yesterday on the charge of assault and battery upon Percilla Bishop, colored. Judgment was suspended upon the payment of the costs.

—The baseball teams of Wrightsboro and East Wilmington contested for honors on the diamond of the former yesterday afternoon, the Wilmington aggregation winning by a score of 12 to 8. Buck and Williams formed the battery for East Wilmington.

—The men's meeting at the Bijou theatre, conducted by Rev. Thomas Elgar, the "Prison Evangelist" under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at 5 o'clock, will be of a most interesting nature. All men of the city are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

—Dr. W. H. Milton will hold the services at St. James' Episcopal church today, Whitsunday, at 7:45 and 11 A. M., and 6 P. M. Dr. Milton is at present rector of St. John's church, Roanoke, Va. The vestry has extended him a call to take charge of St. James' church in this city.

—One deed was filed for record yesterday as follows: Emily Lee, widow of the late Major Lee, and heir-at-law of Ceazer Blackledge, to John Thomas Blackledge, for $10 and other considerations, 55 acres of land in Federal Point township, adjoining lands of Lot Southerland, George Harriss, William McNeal and others.

FOUGHT HIS GUEST.

Henry Hill and Slay Donaldson, Colored, Use Deadly Weapons.

Henry Hill, colored, who lives at 703 South Eighth street, and Slay Donaldson, colored, engaged in a lively fight at the home of the former about 10 o'clock last night, and both were more or less injured in the altercation. Hill has been arrested but Donaldson has not been captured yet.

Hill says that he ordered Donaldson from his house and when he refused to leave he proceeded to put him out by force. Donaldson resented any such treatment and began to fight. Hill broke a flower pot over Donaldson's head and was himself cut with a knife and bruised about the head. The extent of Donaldson's injuries are not known.

Judgment Against Negro.

After sleeping over the matter, revolving in his mind the facts as presented by both sides, Judge Sykes yesterday morning announced his decision in the case of John D. Sidbury against Joseph Holloway, colored, in favor of the plaintiff. It was an action in which the plaintiff was seeking to foreclose a mortgage which he held on a mule he sold to the defendant. It appeared to the court that the negro had paid on the mortgage all but $7.50 and his judgment was to the effect that if the amount and the cost of the action were paid within ten days, the defendant could keep the mule, otherwise he will issue an execution for the seizure of the mule. The testimony in the case was heard Friday afternoon.

Will Observe Memorial Day.

The colored population of the city will observe National memorial day tomorrow with appropriate exercises. They will meet at Mable Hall, corner Sixth and Campbell streets, at 3 o'clock and form a procession which will proceed to the National Cemetery at 3:30 o'clock, headed by the Third North Carolina Band, David Sasser, chief marshal and his aides, W. A. Green, will be master of ceremonie, and Rev. G. W. Moore chaplain. Rev. G. D. Carnes, D. D., will be the orator of the day.

Carolina Beach Season.

The amusement resorts, restaurant, bath houses, etc., at Carolina Beach have opened for the season and that popular place is entertaining a number of pleasure seekers. The steamer Wilmington will make two trips there today, the first boat leaving at 9:30 A. M. and the second at 2:30 P. M. It is expected that a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity of visiting the beach today.

The Butterfly Dance.

The Butterfly Dance at Lumina tomorrow night promises to be a most delightful affair for all the young people who attend. The decorations will be unique and fantastic and the dance promises to be a brilliant affair in every respect. Pretty and appropriate favors will be given to the dancers.

Sunday Train to University.

For the benefit of the large number of visitors who will be on their way to attend the University commencement today, the Chapel Hill train will operate on its regular schedule today instead of daily except Sunday as heretofore.

At the Bijou.

"For Her Country's Sake," a stirring story of the Civil War, in which a woman is the heroine, and "The Infernal Machine," telling of a banker's narrow escape from being blown to pieces as arranged for by a crank, are the features of tomorrow's programme at the Bijou.

AFFAIRS AT LUMBERTON

Damon and Pythias Presented—Monument Unveiling and Memorial Day Exercises—Ice Plant Being Installed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, May 29.—The story of Damon and Pythias was shown at the moving picture show last night to a full house, and the pictures were greatly enjoyed, especially by Pythians. After tonight the show will be closed for two weeks, Prof. and Mrs. DeGafferelly leaving tomorrow or Monday morning for Norfolk and Charleston.

Someone made Sheriff McNeill wise here one day this week and he went down about the Big Swamp 8 or 9 miles from town and found where a blind tiger had been doing business, but the tiger was gone. However several molasses barrels and hogsheads were found, and information enough obtained to cause a trial to be held here today to further investigate the matter. There has been much talk of a bar in that section for some time, but it seems that it was a tiger instead.

The appearance of the interior of the Western Union office has been improved. A partition has been removed giving more room, and the walls repapered. While the ceiling overhead has been given a fresh coat of paint.

A special rate of $1.55 for the round trip will be given to Marion, S. C., Wednesday, June 2nd on account of the meeting of Driving Association which meets there that day.

Mr. E. F. Ward, a son of Mrs. Rebecca Toon, of Lumberton, and Miss Alice L. Morgan, of Smithfield, will be married in the Methodist church at Smithfield next Wednesday at noon. Mr. Archie Ward, a brother of the groom, will attend the marriage. Mr. Ward being private secretary to Congressman Pou, he and Mrs. Ward will go to Washington where they will remain till Congress adjourns, after which they will visit Lumberton.

The Rural Letter Carriers Association of Robeson County, will be in session here Monday, when it is expected that every carrier in the county will be present.

The recent rains have caused a rise in the river which has given some of the fishermen a rest. It is better so as only a few fish were being caught and they so high that few people could afford to eat them.

A singing class from the Oxford Orphan Asylum will give a concert in the Lumberton opera house nevt Monday evening, the 31st, under the auspices of St. Albans Lodge No. 114, A. F. & A. M. This is a worthy cause, and it is hoped the children will be greeted by a packed house.

Arrangements are being made, we understand, by the First Baptist Sunday School to operate an excursion to Page's Mill, S. C., about June 10th. For several years this Sunday school has been going to Wrightsville or Carolina Beach, but decided on a change this season.

The Lumberton merchants seem to be doing their business with the railroads, and the V. & C. C. is already handling a good deal of freight from the North. The first new passenger coach arrived here yesterday and two others are expected today or Monday. It is expected that a regular passenger schedule will be inaugurated next week.

The Lumberton tribe of Red Men turned out in a body Thursday night and attended the moving picture show. Many people visited the show to see th Red Men and the pictures at the same time.

Mr. J. M. Butler expects at an early day to begin the erection of an up-to-date two-story dwelling on the vacant lot opposite the Baptist parsonage.

Mr. D. W. Millsaps and family left this morning for Orangeburg, S. C., where they expect to make their future home. Mrs. Markham, who comes from Kingsdale, has rented Mr. Millsaps' residence where she expects to conduct a boarding house.

The Star man was the recipient one day this week of some choice ripe peaches, presented by Mrs. Charles Parker. The fruit was grown in her garden and was of a most excellent quality.

Monday being a legal holiday Sunday hours will be observed at the postoffice.

Messrs. L. B. Townsend, John D. McMillan, Dr. John Knox, F. P. Gray, L. C. Townsend, and W. B. Webb went to Fayetteville Tuesday afternoon to witness the game of ball between Fayetteville and Rocky Mount. They went over by the automobile route.

The Woodmen of the World will conduct the unveiling exercises at the grave of Mr. T. W. McHargue in the North Lumberton cemetery Monday at 2 o'clock. The rural letter carriers who will be in town that day attending the meeting of their association will attend in a body. Mr. McHargue having been a faithful carrier for several years.

Mr. J. M. Stephens, of Ivanhoe, arrived here yesterday to spend some days with relatives and friends.

Mrs. E. I. McRacken, of Whiteville, arrived here this week to be with her daughter, Mrs. Wade Wishart, who has been very sick, but we are glad to report her as improving.

Prof. R. E. Sentelle expects to leave Monday morning for Waynesville where his family have been for the past two or three weeks.

Mr. R. O. Edmund will go to Lumber Bridge tomorrow morning and return tomorrow night, accompanying his family who have been spending several days with relatives at that place.

Mrs. E. D. McNeill left Thursday for Mullins, S. C., where she will spend several days with her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Prevatt.

Mrs. J. O. White, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kaneer left for home at Gastonia this morning. She was accompanied by Mrs. Kaneer and children who will spend a month in Gastonia.

Dr. J. D. Regan expects to have his ice plant in operation in two weeks. The plant which will be of five ton capacity is being erected by Charlotte people. Artesian water is to be used for making ice.

Miss Grace Redmond left this morning for Raleigh where she goes to visit her friend, Miss Helen Stainback.

The little three-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Allen had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon about five o'clock. While playing near a sand pit in the street she fell in head first, the water being about two feet deep. Mrs. Allen heard the alarm given by the nurse and hurried to the rescue. With the assistance of others who were soon on the scene the little one was gotten out without injury.

June, July and August we close at 6 P. M., except Saturday.

SUPERINTENDENTS CHANGE.

Mr. B. P. Strickland to Succeed Mr. Reynolds Transferred to Charlotte.

It is learned from an authoritative source that effective about July 1st, Mr. B. S. Reynolds, for some time superintendent of the Navassa Guano factory near Wilmington, will be transferred to the superintendency of one of the V-C plants at Charlotte, N. C., and that he will be succeeded at Navassa by Mr. Bert P. Strickland, now superintendent of the Almont factory of the company, Mr. C. E. LaFrage, assistant superintendent at Navassa, succeeding Mr. Strickland as superintendent at Almont. The changes involve promotions for popular and efficient superintendents which will be of much interest to their many friends here and elsewhere. Mr. Strickland has been with the company only about six years and his advancement in the service has been rapid and substantial. He has fine executive ability and will be a valuable man at Navassa, one of the largest plants of its kind in the State.

Observance of Whitsunday.

Whitsunday, the seventh Sunday after Easter, will be observed by the Episcopal, Lutheran and Catholic Churches today. Special services will be held in the Wilmington churches of the denominations named in commemoration of the day. Whitsunday is one of the three big festivals of the Church and is in commemoration of the descent of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost. At St. Paul's Lutheran Church this morning the pastor, Rev. W. A. Snyder, will preach on the subject, "The Church, the Body of the Living God," and at night, "A Personal Pentecost" will be his subject. A special musical programme has been arranged.

St. James Brotherhood to Meet.

St. James Brotherhood will have a meeting immediately after the 11 o'clock service today to meet Rev. Wm. H. Milton, D. D., rector-elect of the church, who has arrived from Roanoke, Va., and is a guest at the home of Mr. J. V. Grainger. Rev. Dr. Milton will preach at both services at St. James today and also at the Church of the Good Shepherd at 8 o'clock in the evening, the evening service at St. James being at 6 P. M.

Moonlight Trip Friday Night.

A moonlight excursion of the steamer Wilmington will be conducted next Friday under the auspices of St. John's Parish Guild. The trip promises to be a most pleasant one, a number of delightful features being arranged for the outing. The steamer will go ten miles up the river and the public is invited to go.

NEXT MEETS IN ROCKINGHAM.

Meeting of King's Daughters in Greenville Closes—Officers Elected.

Mrs. Jennie M. Garrell, Miss Birdie Miles and Mrs. C. J. Kelloway returned to Wilmington Friday night from Greenville, where they attended the annual meeting of the King's Daughters. The next convention will be held in Rockingham.

The following were elected officers for the ensuing year: State Secretary, Mrs. W. H. S. Burgwyn, Weldon; Assistant State Secretary, Miss Easdale Shaw, Rockingham; Recording Secretary, Mrs. G. A. Coggerhall, Oxford; Treasurer, Mrs. D. Y. Cooper, Henderson; Executive Committee, Mrs. A. L. Blow, Greenville; Mrs. Chas. J. Kelloway, Wilmington; Mrs. F. I. Holloway, Raleigh; Miss Blanche Pickard, Chapel Hill; Miss Elizabeth Schworberg, Southern Pines.

An interesting report of the work being done on the King's Daughters' cottage at Stonewall Jackson Training School at Concord was made by Mrs. Burgwyn, and Mrs. Cotton, president of the Stonewall Jackson Association, reported the amount of funds collected by her for the school.

COMMITTEE MEETING

To Organize Permanent "Greater Wilmington Club", Tomorrow.

A meeting of the committee appointed at the recent temporary organization of the "Greater Wilmington Club," will be held tomorrow evening at 5 o'clock in the office of Mr. A. B. Skelding, at the Tidewater Power Company's offices, on Front street, for the purpose of recommending a permanent oragnization at the regular meeting of the club during the coming week and to discuss other matters pertaining to its organization.

It is requested that all members of the committee be present. Those named on the organization committee were Messrs. A. B. Skelding, Henderson Cole, E. N. Penny, W. M. Jacobi, T. D. Love, T. E. Wallace, B. F. Keith, Louis T. Moore, W. B. Cooper, Thos. H. Wright, R. C. DeRosset, Woodus Kellum, M. S. Willard, Louis Goodman and J. H. Chadbourn.

HERE NEXT YEAR.

Diocesan Council of Episcopal Church Comes to St. John's in 1910.

A pleasing fact overlooked in connection with the return of the Wilmington delegates from the Diocesan Council at Washington, N. C., the past week, is that St. John's Church, of this city, will have the pleasure of entertaining the convention next year. Invitations were extended by St. John's, Fayetteville, Edenton and several other places, but the Council could not resist the cordial invitation of St. John's, extended through Col. T. C. James, and Wilmington will have the pleasure of entertaining the visitors in 1910, beginning on the third Saturday in May.

Recorder's Court Yesterday.

The Recorder had several cases on his docket for trial yesterday morning but none of more than passing interest. Three drunks, P. B. Martin, W. B. Mintz and M. L. Godwin, were fined $5 each and taxed with the costs. Lizzie Smith, colored, was tried on two charges, disorderly conduct and assault and battery, being let off upon payment of costs in each case. Claudia Hicks, colored, who was indicted for disorderly conduct by Lizzie Smith, was found not guilty and the prosecutor taxed with the costs. Willie McIver, colored, was given a hearing on the charge of stealing some brass, which, however, turned out to be iron instead. There was no evidence to show that he had stolen it and the case was dismissed.

March—"My Virginia" ....Chas. K. Harriss

REDUCTION OF SALARIES

That of Clerk of Board of Audit and Finance Reduced to $1,200.

In its report of the proceedings of the Board of Audit and Finance yesterday morning, it was stated that the salary of the clerk of that Board remained at $1,500 with additional duties prescribed. That way of expressing it may have led to a false impression. The salary was reduced from $1,500 to $1,200 but the clerk was given the extra work of compiling the tax books for which an annual appropriation of $300 is usually made, so that while the salary remains the same, it is paid in a different way and the $300 appropriation previously made for compiling the tax book is eliminated.

Hearing Continued.

Supplementry proceedings in the case of Ferguson Bros., of Richmond, Va., against L. C. Whitehead, for the possession of a piano and phonograph, have been started before the clerk of the Superior Court. The hearing was originally set for yesterday, but was continued until Monday. Friday several articles of personal property belonging to the defendant were seized to satisfy a judgment of $177 obtained by the plaintiffs and this latter proceedings is to get in possession of additional property belonging to him.

Christian Church Excursion.

The ladies of the Christian church have arranged to run a moonlight excursion on the steamer Wilmington Thursday night and invite their friends to accompany them on the trip up and down the Cape Fear river. There will be music and refreshments and it will be a delightful outing.

NEW CITY DIRECTORY READY

Have Arrived in City and Will be Distributed Tomorrow—Shows Population of 35,000—An Attractive Book.

Mr. George W. Reid, representative of the Hill Directory Company, of Richmond, Va., is in the city and will begin tomorrow the delivery of the new directory of the city, which is the largest and handsomest ever published for Wilmington.

The book is handsomely bound in blue and is attractive in every respect. One of the most encouraging bits of information regarding this year's directory is the fact that the book contains 68 pages more than the previous publication. The population of the city is given at 35,000, which is considered low enough, and it is believed that Wilmington is still the largest city in the State, notwithstanding the big claims made by the "City of 42,000" and Charlotte, which claims still more people.

Commencing on page 6 is found the preface furnished by the Chamber of Commerce and makes highly interesting reading to the people of Wilmington and this section. The story is told in the Chamber's peculiar and impressive style, designating each article as Fact 1, Fact 2 and so on through the list of things which go to make Wilmington great.

On page 10 is a general index showing what the book contains, making it easy for the inquirer to find the information sought. The index to the advertisers is found on page 11. Commencing on page 13 is a miscellaneous department in which is given matter pertaining to the city, county, State and National government, together with the officers and directors of all the financial institutions. In addition there is a general summing up of information of service to the citizen and the stranger. Beginning on page 37 and running for 340 pages is an alphabetical list of all adult citizens of the city, both white and colored, giving their places of business as well as residence.

The Hill Directory Company maintains a file of directories of a large number of the cities of the United States at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce where they may be consulted at any time. The Wilmington directory is placed in the Hill directory files all over the United States. C. W. Yates & Company are the local agents and those who have not placed an order can secure a copy from them.

Moonlight Trip Tuesday.

A large crowd is expected to take the trip down the river and out to sea Tuesday night on the steamer Wilmington. The excursion will be run under the auspices of Circle No. 4 of the Fifth Street Methodist Church and tickets for the round-trip will be sold for 35 cents. The boat leaves at 7:30 P. M. A stop will be at the lighthouse both going and returning and those who not care to go to sea can remain there until the return of the boat. There will be music and refreshments and a most delightful time is promised all who take the outing.

Trial of Three-Cornered Fight.

In Justice Bornemann's court yesterday investigation into a three-cornered fight between negro women was begun. Owing to the absence of several material witnesses the hearing was continued until 9 o'clock Monday morning. Carrie Smith is charged with assault with a knife upon Ethel Jackson, cutting her in three places, Sipician Morgan is charged with aiding and abetting her. The latter is also charged with disorderly conduct.

Changes in A. C. L. Schedule.

As will be seen by reference to schedule published in another column a number of changes in the arrivals and departures of A. C. L. trains go into effect today. The train for the north which formerly left at 8:35 A. M., will hereafter leave at 9 A. M.; the Fayetteville train will leave at 8:40 instead of 8:20 A. M., as heretofore, and the Newbern train will leave at 3:30 P. M. instead of 3:20 P. M. as heretofore.

Improvements at Court House.

Mr. E. A. Rhinehart, representative of the Art Metal Company, of Jamestown, N. Y., arrived in the city Friday night and yesterday morning began the installation of additional roller book and filing shelves for the vaults of the offices of the Register of Deeds and Clerk of Superior Court. The need of additional shelves has been apparent for some time and the officers are glad to know that the work will be completed by Tuesday.

Capt. P. T. Dicksey Leaves Navassa.

Captain P. T. Dicksey has resigned as master of the steam tug Navassa and on June 1st will join Captain H. H. Hall in the towing and lighterage business at this port. Captain Tom Sellers, master of the tug Catherine, of the Angola Lumber Company, will succeed Captain Dicksey on the Navassa.

SUFFERERS FROM DYSPEPSIA

should read the following letter written to a local druggist by a man who was cured of Indigestion by use of Rydale's Stomach Tablets. Mr. A. E. Dimmock, Valdosta, Ga.

Dear Sir: Please find enclosed 25c, in postage stamps, for which please send me by mail, a 25c. box of Rydale's Stomach Tablets for a friend of mine. I bought a 50c. box and it cured me, and I told him. He is a sufferer and wants to try them. These tablets are a blessing to sufferers, too much good cannot be said for them. E. K. SLOW PROGRESS IN COURT

First Week of Term Passes and Little Headway is Made on Docket. Walker Case Not Completed. Divorce Granted.

Very little progress was made on the Superior Court docket during the first week of the regular May term which adjourned at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 9:30 o'clock Monday morning. Only three cases were disposed of during the week. A third case, that of Chas. Walker, et al., against J. F. Walker, et al., which was taken up Thursday afternoon, is still pending but will probably be gotten out of the way Monday.

On motion to non-suit, which was made and argued Friday afternoon, Judge Allen ruled against the attorneys for the defendants, deciding to let the case go to the jury. Accordingly witnesses for the defendants were examined, after which argument of counsel was begun, R. G. Grady, Esq., speaking for the plaintiffs. At the conclusion of his speech a divorce case was heard, after which court took a recess until Monday.

Gertrude Carr was granted a divorce from her husband, Fred Carr. The parties are colored. The trial of the case consumed but a few minutes. Herbert McClammy, Esq., represented the plaintiff.

The case of the Willard Bag & Manufacturing Company against the Clarendon Water Works Company, is set for trial Monday. The plaintiffs are asking for $25,000 damages on account of the destruction by fire of their bag factory in the Vollers fire, alleging insufficient water pressure, The case will very likely consume the remainder of the term.

A special venire of 50 men has been summoned to appear in court Monday to supplement the regular jurors so as to expedite the matter of selecting a jury in the waterworks case.

The regular jurors for the week are: P. W. Beaton, G. N. Ormsby, Geo. A. Diebert, Jerre Hand, Chas. D. Yarborough, Chas. F. Craig, W. S. Cooper, C. B. Rehder, J. A. Conway, H. P. Merritt, W. W. Blair, John J. Blair, Walker Taylor, A. V. Lafiteau, H. C. Prince, B. F. Applewhite, J. H. W. Bonitz and O. M. Filyaw.

BIDS ON NEW TORPEDO BOATS.

Contracts to be Awarded for Five Destroyers.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 29.—Bids for the construction of five torpedo boat destroyers authorized by the last naval appropriation bill were opened at the Navy Department today. The vessels are to be of 742 tons trial displacement and will have a speed of about 30 knots. It is probable that all the boats wil be constructed on the Atlantic coast. They will be equipped with turbine engines and will burn oil fuel.

The Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company submitted the lowest bid, which was for one destroyer at $628,000. The other bids were: William Cramp & Sons Shipbuilding Company, Philadelphia, one vessel at $637,000; Fore River Shipbuilding Company, Quincy, Mass., one vessel with machinery of their own design at $644,000; New York Shipbuilding Company, Camden, N. J., one vessel at $648,000; Bath Iron Works, Bath, Me., one vessel at $659,500, and the Maryland Steel Company, Baltimore, Md., one vessel at $694,000, or two vessels at $690,500 each.

Contracts for the five destroyers probably will be awarded, one each to the first five mentioned builders.

PERU'S PRESIDENT SEIZED

Revolutionists Attack Palace But Were Driven Off—Many Killed.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

Lima, Peru, May 29.—A rising of political factions occurred here at 4:30 this afternoon with the object of overthrowing the government of President Leguia. An attack was made upon the palace and firing was heard in all parts of the city. It is reported that many are dead and wounded.

Adherents of Augusto Durand, who was concerned in the revolution at Chosica, near Lima, in May, 1908, and of Isais Peola, also a notorious agitator, made an assault upon the palace and seized President Leguia. The army, however, remained loyal and came to his support. The revolutionists were obliged to liberate the President, who immediately took measures to put down the movement. Within an hour, although firing was still heard in the streets, President Leguia seemed to be master of the situation.

Many shots were exchanged between the troops and the revolutionists and it is believed that the casualties will be heavy. Cavalry is now on guard throughout the city.

FIFTEEN KILLED BY TORNADO.

Devastated Oklahoma Towns of Key West and Depew—40 Injured.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 29.—Fifteen and perhaps more persons were killed tonight in a tornado which devastated the Oklahoma towns of Key West and Depew. Forty or more are injured.

At least ten were killed in Key West. Five are dead at Depew. The tornado swept over a wide stretch of farming country. Wire are down and many rumors of death and destruction at isolated points could not be confirmed tonight.

Following the wind came a deluge of rain. Floods then added their terrors to the situation. The wreckage of Key West soon was overwhelmed by the rising waters. Practically nothing was left of the town of 200 inhabitants.

FIX AMOUNT OF SPECIAL LEVY

Board of Education Asks Commissioners to Make Levy of 12 Cents on $100 Valuation of Property. Resolutions.

At a special meeting of the County Board of Education held at the Court House yesterday a resolution was adopted requesting the County Commissioners to fix the amount of the levy of the school tax voted last Wednesday at 12 cents on the $100 valuation of property and 36 cents on the poll. A resolution was also passed thanking the people generally and the organizations for their splendid work in carrying the election in favor of the special tax.

The meeting was presided over by Chairman George Rountree, and the other members of the board, Messrs. W. H. Sprunt and Donald MacRae were present. County Treasurer H. McL. Green and County Superintendent of Education Washington Catlett were also present.

The following is the resolution relative to the special tax levy:

"Resolved, That the Board of Education does hereby fix the amount of levy for the special school tax for the year 1909-1910 at 12 cents on the $100 worth of property, and 36 cents on the poll as provided by the special act of the General Assembly of North Carolina at the session. That the Board of County Commissioners of New Hanover county be, and they are hereby requested to make the amount of the levy for the special school tax for the year 1909-1910 12 cents on the $100 worth of property, and 36 cents on the poll."

The resolution of thanks was adopted as follows:

"Resolved, That the Board of Education of New Hanover county desires to put on record its sense of obligation to the gentlemen who so unselfishly, persistently and intelligently aided in the campaign for the better maintenance of the public schools, and it especially desires to thank the George Washington and Jefferson Davis councils of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, the Boys' Brigade and the Baraca Class of Grace Methodist Church for their zealous and unremitting work on the day of election.

"Resolved, further, that a copy of these resolutions be sent by the secretary to these organizations."

BANK OFFICIALS ARRESTED.

President and Cashier of Georgia Bank—Shortage.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Bainbridge, Ga., May 29.—A. D. Oliver, president of the Bank of Climax, Ga., and Cashier Hall, of that institution, were arrested today upon warrants sworn out by the State bank examiner. The examiner would give out no statements as to the amount of the shortage that is alleged to have been discovered, but it is understood to be large.

The examiner, it is reported, found only 56 cents in cash in the bank's vault when he made his examination.

Oliver was generally supposed to be a man of large financial means. He had operated heavily in timbered lands, saw mills and other property, making partial payments, and these, as a rule being of small amounts.

He had been engaged in business in this section only since the first of the current year, and a few weeks ago was married to a young lady of this place. At the time of their marriage he bestowed upon her $5,000 in cash and numerous diamonds. The arrests have aroused general interest, the Climax bank having many depositors upon its books.

PRIZE FIGHTER MEETS DEATH

Fight in Savannah Results in Third Fatality.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Savannah, Ga., May 29.—James Kueriazes, otherwise known as "Greek Jimmy Ryan," died at St. Joseph hospital early today from concussion of the brain. He was injured last night while engaged in a prize fight with "Young" Evans before the Southern Athletic Club, falling and striking his head on the floor. Evans is in custody pending an investigation. The dead man formerly lived at Terre Haute, Ind. He came to Savannah from Memphis and is the third man within recent years to come to Savannah to meet death, either in the prize ring or after leaving it as a direct result of injuries sustained.

A memorial park will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies at Fairview, Ky., on June 3rd, the birthday of Jefferson Davis. Fairview is his birthplace and the park will be a memorial to him. The approaching anniversary will be the 101st.

—Charlotte Chronicle: One of the largest publishing houses in the United States will announce next month, the publication of a new work on "Industrial Engineering," by Nisbet Latta, formerly a resident of Charlotte. This work has already passed the critics of America and continental Europe, and received advance notices from the technical press of both countries, highly complimentary to the author. Mr. Latta's last book has been adopted, not only as a standard in many industrial works in this country and in England, but it has been adopted as a textbook in universities in nearly every English-speaking country, as far as and including Australia.

COURT HEADQUARTERS

Federal Judge Connor May Establish Office at Wilson.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 29.—In all probability Raleigh will not be the residence court for the Judge of the Eastern District, United States court for long after Judge Connor is sworn in as judge and that ultimately Wilson will have his home office. Just at present Wilson has neither a Federal court or public building but the appropriation for a government building with court equipment has already been made and those in a position to know declare that territory can and will be set aside for a Wilson district court. Within the past few days a site for the government building at Wilson has been purchased and work on the building would be gotten under way very soon but for the fact that word has come from Senator Overman and others at Washington that if the work is held up until the next regular session of Congress an additional appropriation of at least $15,000 or $20,000 can easily be secured. The present appropriation is $60,000. Judge Connor will in the meantime spend much of his time while not holding one or another of his courts at his Wilson home, in all probability having his tentative office and stenographer there. Miss Sophira Busbee is to be his stenographer.

Card of Thanks.

I take this method of thanking Mr. Claud Smith, the gentleman who found the tickets lost by me, and so kindly returned them. L. B. Sharpless. **

A CARD OF THANKS.

In giving to Wilmington its first Music Festival, the North Carolina Sorosis is pleased to express its satisfaction with the results attained. As to its artistic success there is no question and the Sorosis is gratified to announce its financial success, for which the ladies heartily thank a most generous public.

Thanks are also extended to all who participated in the two choruses which so greatly added to the charm of the occasion; to the Y. M. C. A. for the use of rooms for adult chorus rehearsals, and for the loan of chairs for the orchestra; to the school authorities for the use of the Union School auditorium for the rehearsals of the children's chorus; to Mr. Edward Munson for his efficient leadership of the adult chorus, and to Mr. George L. Johnson for his admirable training of the children's chorus; to the Bell Campbell Lumber Company for the use of lumber; to the Stieff Piano Company for the loan of the piano used throughout the Festival; to Mr. John Plummer, Jr., for his helpful assistance in reserving the tickets; to Mr. W. A. French for his indispensable co-operation during the progress of the Festival; and, last but not least, to a generous press—The Star and The Dispatch—for their excellent articles before and during the Festival.

STIEFF

Official Piano of the Jamestown Exposition. "The Piano with the sweet tone." Can you believe what you see with your own eyes, and hear with your own ears? Is it not a notable fact that the STIEFF Piano has been and is being used by every Musical fete in this city of late? Is it because they cannot get other pianos? Not by any means, it is because the STIEFF is the piano of quality, rich, melodious, easy of action, responsive, brilliant without harshness and especially adapted to accompany the human voice. Artists recognize these unsurpassed qualities of the STIEFF.

We also make the Matchless Shaw and sell it to you direct from factory at one profit, just as we sell the STIEFF; easy payments if you wish—you would not feel the cost, which is very small for such high-grade instruments. We sell cheaper pianos, which are fully guaranteed. Call at your home piano store and select the one you like best. We will take your old piano or organ in exchange and allow full value. Investigate. Free Trip to Washington
District of Columbia

Washington is leaping forward to a place among the great capitals of the world and now is your greatest opportunity to invest in Washington real estate if you want to make money.

Do you realize that Washington is the most beautiful city in the United States today and will in a few years be the most beautiful in the world, You Ask Why? First, because there is only one District of Columbia and one Washington, the seat of government and the capital of a nation of more than eighty millions of the most thrifty and wealthy people on the face of the earth, and the National Capital must keep pace with the growth of the nation. Second, because the Government is spending millions of dollars every year to improve and beautify the city.

The area in the District of Columbia is limited to about eight miles square, and at the present rate Washington is growing, the time is not far distant when you will be unable to buy a good building lot within the limits of the District of Columbia at any reasonable price.

Business men and capitalists from all parts of the country are coming to Washington to invest money in property because they know it is the safest and surest profit on a real estate investment to be found in the country today.

Your Opportunity

Randle Highlands, with its magnificent elevation stands out as one of Washington's most beautiful residential suburbs and is located within twelve minutes' ride of the Capital Building. This property is controlled by the United States Realty Company, the largest real estate operators in Washington, and they are offering to the people of Wilmington an opportunity for investment that is seldom offered to the public; that is, a chance to get a valuable building lot on famous Pennsylvania and Massachusetts Avenues, Washington's Greatest Boulevards. To the capitalist: this is a chance to enlarge your fortune; to the young man working for a salary: this is your opportunity to make a start in life. Don't allow it to slip by. No investment safer than good real estate.

Terms are attractive and easy.

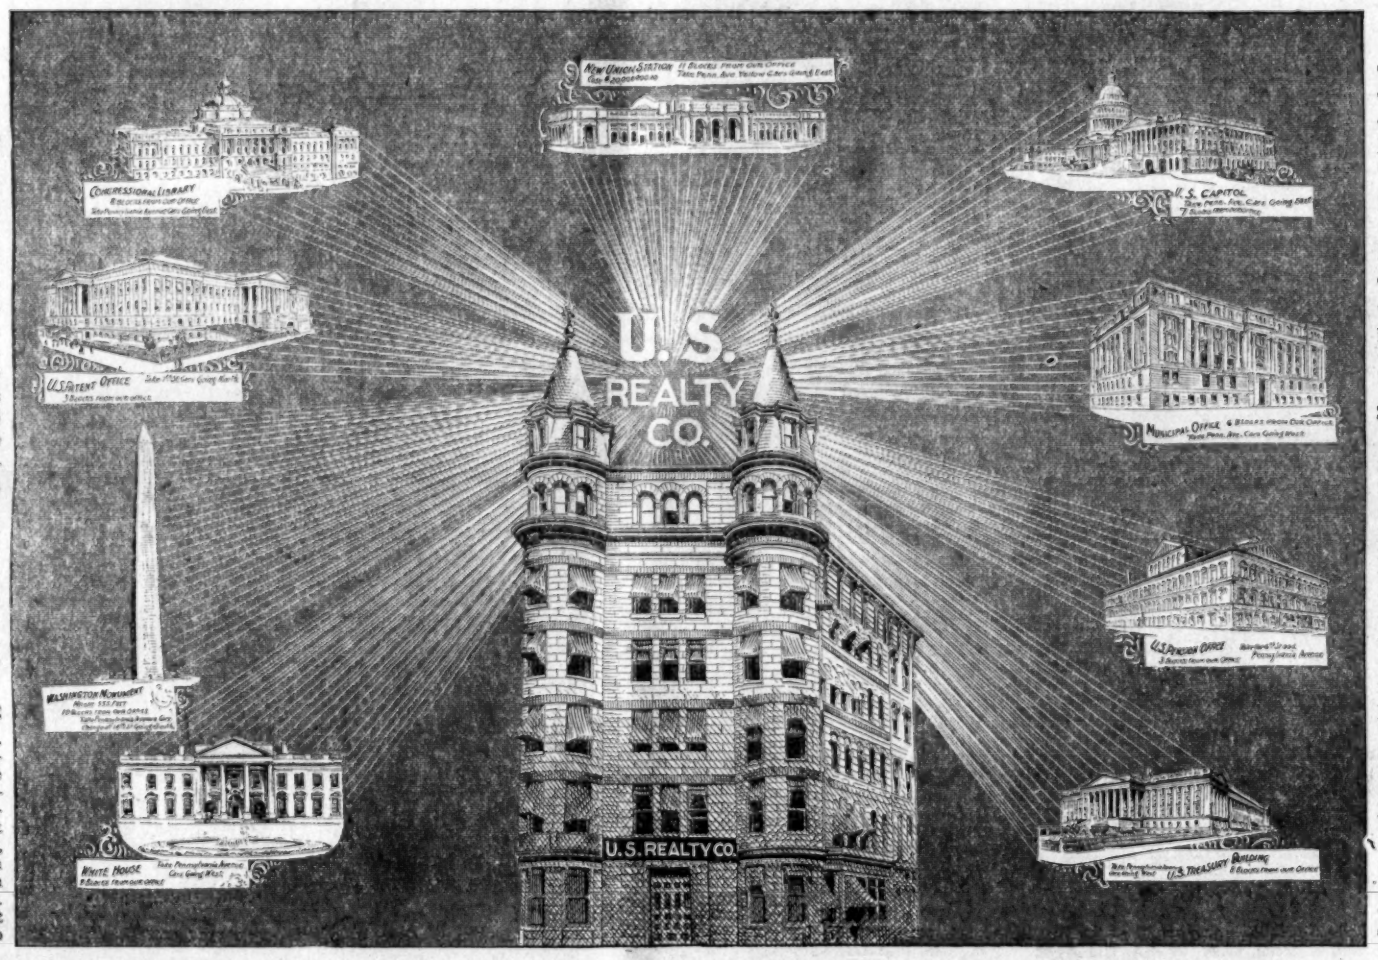
OUR SELLING PLAN.

Every lot is sold under a Title Building and Improvement Bond Contract which has coupons attached equal to 6 per cent. on your investment, payable to you monthly until one-third of the purchase price has been paid. These coupons will be accepted by the United States Realty Company as part of your monthly payment, or be paid to you in cash by the company under conditions named in the bond. Price of lots $500 to $1,000. First payment only $25 to $100 and use of coupons reduces the actual cash outlay to only $5 a month until one-third purchase price is paid. Ten per cent. discount will be allowed for cash in full at time of purchase.

Pennsylvania avenue lots sold for spot cash only. The Bond for Title further provides an opportunity for the purchasers to borrow money for building on their lots after they have paid for them in full; these loans to carry 5 per cent. interest.

PROTECTION IN CASE OF DEATH.

Our Bond-for-Title contracts provides that if the purchaser should die before paying one third of the purchase money, his or her heirs or devisees will be given a deed to the lot without any further payment, provided, of course, the payments have been made regularly when due each month from date of contract to time of death. This protection costs you nothing, but may be worth hundreds of dollars to your family.



TAX RATE.

The tax rate in Washington is extremely low, because the United States government pays for one-half of all the expenses of the District of Columbia government. The rate is $1.50 on each $100 of property, and the assessed values are very reasonable, being much less than the real values. In purchasing property from the United States Realty Company, you pay no interest or taxes until one-third the purchase money has been paid.

A free trip to beautiful Washington can be arranged with our representative, for the purpose of inspecting the Company's property. May and June are the most desirable months to visit the National Capital because at this season of the year Washington is the most beautiful City in the world.

This trip will also enable you to witness the largest and most powerful legislative body in the world, "Congress of the United States" now in session and deliberating on the most important measure that has been before them for several years, "Revision of Tariff" which is expected to close about July 1st.

For full information call or cut coupon and mail to our local office Wilmington, N. C., 502 Southern Building.

WHY Washington City Real Estate in the District of Columbia Is a Good Investment . . . . . .

Never in the history of Washington has the demand for suburban property been so great and building operations so active. The effect has already begun to stimulate the prices of property. Many who purchased lots from the United States Realty Co. less than three years ago have resold at large profits.

The United States Realty Company announces the opening of a Southern Headquarters in Wilmington. This Southern office is established for the purpose of giving the people of North Carolina an opportunity to make profitable investments in District of Columbia real estate on the most liberal terms.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS OF THE BISHOP

Delivered at the Recent East Carolina Diocesan Council Held at Washington, N. C.

Once more, my friends, we gather together in our annual council to thank God for His goodness to us and to ask Him for wisdom and strength; once more we come together to take counsel how best to spread the Kingdom of our Lord in our diocese, our country and throughout the world.

I wish to thank once and publicly all my people for their loving and kindly hospitality to their Bishop. To send thanks by letter to each one is beyond his power. I wish to ask my people, clergy and laity, to answer at once any letter I write to them on any subject, except it be an answer to a letter they have written. I feel that I can count on them to do whatever I ask, or to be prepared to meet any appointment I make; but I must know, and at once, whether they have received my letter, making one link in my plans, one stopping place in my many journeys. It is not considerate to me or to the Diocese to add to my multitudinous correspondence another letter of inquiry as to whether or not they have received the first.

My first important work this conciliar year was the Council in Elizabeth City. The delegates from Christ Church had asked for the council that it might do them good. After the adjournment, the rector wrote me, "God bless the council; it has made over my parish." Those words should be a constant source of gratitude, inspiration and encouragement to the members of our council. This meeting in Elizabeth City was grave—it might have done much harm to the church; it was earnest—much good work was accomplished; it was enthusiastic. We all went home feeling that we ought to and that we could do greater things for God and His Church. The pilgrimage to Roanoke Island was a fitting ending to such a council. The day was beautiful; the sail to Roanoke and back was delightful; Fort Raleigh and the services and addresses there were interesting and instructive; the spirits of our people were high and the social fellowship refreshing. We have the permission of the North Carolina Society of Antiquities, who own the ground, to build a monument at Fort Raleigh. I have myself rather restrained the ardor of the committee in charge of selecting a monument and raising funds for its erection. Now I would turn the whole matter over to the council and to the committee and ask them to push the matter to a speedy and satisfactory completion. My hope is that two years from today we shall meet in Edenton, and that after that council we shall make a second pilgrimage to Roanoke Island, the object of which shall be the unveiling of the monument, which we shall have erected to mark the spot were the first Sacrament of the Church was administered in our own tongue in this Western land.

The commencements of St. Augustine and St. Mary's schools, Raleigh, next claimed my attention. The following week I was in Petersburg in attendance on the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Bishop Payne Divinity school, where I also ordained Deacon Jno. W. Herritage. Visitations to Whiteville, Snow Hill, Farmville, Vanceboro, Stonewall, Oriental, Pollocksville, Trenton, Burgaw, Lake Waccacaw, Fayetteville, Southport and Atkinson brought me to the retreat of the clergy at Beaufort, beginning the 6th day of July. At Fayetteville I ordained Deacon Bartholomew Fuller Huske in St. John's church, where his grand-father of sainted memory had served for so many years. It is a matter of congratulation to all of us who have been interested in the church in North Carolina for more than ten years that the name of Huske once more appears on the list of our clergy. It gives me much joy to tell you that that name bids fair to gain in honor and affection through the character and work of him who bears it. He has already won the love and respect of his own and all other Christian people in the broad field in which he has been laboring for the past year.

A matter worthy of note in my visit to Trenton last June was the fact that the Bishop of the Diocese immersed in the Trent river a young woman of Baptist parentage, who preferred that mode of baptism. I wish my clergy, my church people, all Christian people, to know that baptism is the thing of of importance, not how we baptize, that we are just as ready to immerse into water as to pour on water in baptizing, and that the mind of Christ and the mind of His Church are too broad and sympathetic to insist on the amount of water and the exact details of its application in so weighty a matter which concerns all the people of the earth.

The Retreat at Beaufort—I give it that familiar name for the sake of a better, although it is not a complete definition of the fact—began on the first Monday in July. Seventeen of us gathered together in the dormitory of St. Paul's school that night. For ten days we prayed together, we studied together and we played together. We learned to know one another, to allow for one another to love one another, to help one another. We all agreed that the Retreat was worth while. On the Sunday of the Retreat we held a most impressive service at which Walter Raleigh Noe was ordained Deacon. I have put Mr. Noe in a field as purely missionary as that of our Western Missionary District, with only one small parish and with no other organized mission. He is breaking new ground for the church and I am glad to tell you that he is breaking it well. He is approving our church and her ways to many, to whom before she was either a stranger or an enemy.

I began the Fall work October 1st, at Winterville, where I preached and confirmed. Thence I went on to Ayden and to St. Johns, Pitt county. October 9th I ordained to the Priesthood Rev. William Jones Gordon in the Church of the Advent, Williamston. Loving parishioners from his two other parishes, Hamilton and Plymouth, joined with the parish and community of Williamston to crowd the church. A lunch and sociable gathering of the church people at the hotel was a good and noticeable feature of that happy day. Thence I went on for more than two weeks to Mr. Gibble in his large and interesting field, one week being taken up with a mission in St. John's, Winton. It was a hard but a happy two weeks, for I found the work growing and strengthening everywhere. I spent All Saints Day in St. James, Wilmington, conducting the service and preaching in the absence of a rector, Mr. Hogue having accepted the call to Chapel Hill. Thence I took the far journey to Jackson, Miss., to be present at the Missionary Conference of the Fourth Department, to which, after our organization, we gave the name of Sewanee. I spent the third week in November in Beaufort county and was especially interested in Mr. Malone's new work in the neighborhood of the Charitable Brotherhood Hall in which I preached and confirmed twelve persons. The last ten days of November was spent in Hyde county with Mr. Alech Nee. The people in this county have been suffering severely from storms and excessive rains for the past three years. They are bravely working against these hard conditions, and they are talking seriously of draining Lake Mattamuskeet and of dyking parts of the county, so that they can largely control these untoward natural conditions. Large congregations showed their interest in the Episcopal church. The change that I made last year in Bellhaven has worked well and the church is growing with more frequent services and a larger pastoral care. Mr. Alech Noe has won the hearts and the confidence of his own and other people in Bellhaven and Hyde county. An interesting week in December with good Mr. Eborn, then visitations to Hertford, Edenton, Plymouth, Farmville, Chocownlity. I had a specially interesting service at Chocowinity where I confirmed eight persons. I was sorry to feel that this was my last service in the old church with Mr. Collin Hughes in charge. He has closed Trinity school and has accepted a call to be Arch Deacon in the Diocese of North Carolina. I regret that he should leave this Diocese, where he has spent his whole life laboring earnestly for the Master. Trinity School has been a blessing in many ways to the church in East Carolina; for many years a very school of the prophets; and for such good work we shall be forever grateful. A fine congregation and impressive service in Zion Church, right out in the country, and a full and cheering Sunday in Washington, where in the afternoon I ordained at St. Paul's Church the Rev. William Thurber Wood, Presbyter, brought me to Christmas.

The first Sunday in January I instituted Rev. J. Gilmer Buskie, Rector of St. Stephens Church, Goldsboro. Mr. Buskie has taken vigorous hold on the church at Goldsboro and has made a most favorable impression on the whole community. The Parish of St. Stephens has been waiting along; but they feel that their present rector is worth waiting for. The 19th of January I ordained Rev. Henry Wilmer Ticknor, Priest, and began an interesting and encouraging mission in Aurora. Mr. Ticknor came last May to take temporary charge of his father's work, and has been earnestly faithful. He has gone, with my affectionate good will, to the Diocese of Pittsburg. Thence I went to Elizabeth City and the churches near. The general interest and enthusiasm of the people and a large class for confirmation showed the good results of Arch Deacon Webber's work in that city. Arch Deacon Webber has held three missions in our Diocese this year: in St John's, Wilmington; Christ Church, Elizabeth City, and Christ Church, Newbern. He has done good work and we are grateful to him for it. I hope to have him in several of our parishes this coming year. Interesting and encouraging visitations to Kinston and Newbern showed the Master's work going forward in all good ways under the zealous leadership of Mr. Griffith and Mr. Brown. February 10th and 11th I was in New York in attendance on a meeting of the House of Bishops called to elect two Missionary Bishops. We elected for Wyoming Rev. N. S. Thomas, and for Western Colorado, Rev. Benjamin Brewster. A week later I made a special trip to Jacksonville, Fla., and to Savannah, Ga., and spoke in the churches in those cities in behalf of that most important work lately undertaken by the whole church, that is the raising of five million dollars as a pension fund for the aged clergy. I shall have more to say of this in another place.

The third Sunday in March I made my annual visitation to the University, preaching, as usual, in the morning in the Chapel of the Cross and at night in the University Chapel. This year I was the regularly appointed University preacher for the month of March. You know that Rev. R. W. Hogue, the beloved rector of St. James Wilmington, went last Fall to Chapel Hill to become the rector of the Chapel of the Cross and to be the representative of the Episcopal Church in North Carolina at the University. You know that the two Dioceses have united with the parish there in calling Mr. Hogue and in giving him his support. I am glad to tell you that I found on my visit that Mr. Hogue was doing all that we expected, and that I am convinced that this movement of the church in North Carolina is the best one thing that we have done in past half century. I asked the council that the committee which I have appointed to take charge of raising funds for the part that East Carolina is to pay be continued, and that the council set aside a Sunday early in the Fall—I would suggest the last Sunday in October—when a collection shall be taken in every parish and mission in the diocese and a special effort shall be made to pay the assessment on each parish for this most important work. A mission in Goldsboro during Holy Week, visitations to Beaufort, the churches in Wilmington, and in and around Fayetteville brought me to the end of the conciliar year. The last visitation was at Red Springs, for our first service and confirmation in the beautiful new church, which has been built under the wise management and untiring efforts of Rev. Isaac W. Hughes, loyally supported by Capt. W. H. Williams and our other few but faithful sons and daughters of the church. I have held three missions of eight days each during this conciliar year: One in Winton in October, another in Aurora in January, and the third in Goldsboro in April. I repeat from a larger experience what I said a year ago to the council. These missions were a help and a joy to me, uplifting me by the preaching of the great things of God to my fellowmen and bringing me in close touch with my own people. I think they have done good to these several parishes and have added to the respect and affection in which our church is held by fellow Christians outside our own Communion.

Negro Work.

Under the wise and energetic leadership of our worthy Arch Deacon, Rev. W. G. Avant, the negro work of the Diocese is steadily going forward; we are at work in some way in every important town in East Carolina. Rev. W. B. Suthern is pressing his church and school work in Fayetteville; Rev. E. R. Bennett has presented two large classes for confirmation and has opene da parish school which has bright prospects of usefulness; Rev. J. L. Taylor has a strong hold on the colored people of Newbern and is leading his parish in united effort to build a new and handsome church; Rev. W. T. Wood is building up his mission in Washington and opening a new one in Greenville; Rev. W. J. Herritage is working in Kinston and Goldsboro; Arch Deacon Avant is taking personal charge in Aurora and is building a church in Belhaven. We are expecting Rev. Herritage to come back to his old work in Edenton and Elizabeth City. I have preached to large congregations and more than one-fourth of the persons confirmed this year in the Diocese are negroes. We have reason to hope that the simple truth of the Apostolic church, with its dignified worship and its setting forth of the Christian religion as the power of God to help men towards righteous living is attracting the attention of the best and wisest of our colored brethren.

The New Constitution and Canons.

The committee on revising and changing the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese have sent out as requested copies of their proposed changes. They will make their formal report tomorrow. I am much pleased with their work as a whole, and commend it to your careful consideration. They will present new canons embodying the changes I suggested last year and they meet my hearty approval. One canon makes it the law in the Diocese that there shall be some rotation in the Vestry and that there shall be at least one new man elected every year. A constant small orderly change in the personnel of the vestry every year, allowing the older men to retire for a time without any hard feeling or show of want of confidence, permitting new men to come in and serve for a time with fresh interest and enthusiasm, so giving by degrees all the men of character and intelligence in the parish an opportunity to realize the difficulties of a vestryman and to grace his honors and responsibilities: all this will do much to bring the parish and the vestry into close and harmonious touch, and to utilize all the talents, energy and interest among the men of the parish in its progress and prosperity. The second canon makes the election of the delegates to the council take place at the same annual meeting of the qualified voters which elect the vestry, instead of the present practice of the vestry electing the delegates at any of their own meetings; and also provides that the vestrymen shall be elected in an open annual meeting of all the qualified voters of the parish. Three small but decidedly good results would flow from this change: first, the delegates themselves would feel more highly honored and under a deeper obligation to attend the council when elected by all the voters of the parish; secondly, the people themselves would take more interest in the delegates and in the council, if they have a hand in their election; thirdly, if the qualified voters had something really to do at these annual meetings, knew that they would have to elect one or two vestrymen and the delegates to the council, they would take the trouble to go to these meetings. These public meetings of qualified voters have been the condition and method of much of the progress of our Anglo-Saxon people in self-government and in the working out for all mankind of the splendid principles of civil and religious liberty. These changes, my friends, are approved by me after five years' close study of the conditions of every parish in the Diocese and after some experience in other parishes and in other Dioceses. I do believe they will work out much good to the church in this Diocese. Of course, there are some objections to them, but the good far outweighs the harm. If they do not work you can change them. They are all you see for the object of getting the people themselves to take more active interest in the work of the church in their own parishes and in the council of the Diocese, so that there shall be a sharing more freely in the privileges and responsibilities in the church.

I note with satisfaction the work of the Sunday School Commission, their suggestions of some more uniform and practical methods of teaching, and the growing interest among our people in the importance and work of the Sunday School. I believe in the good that can come from the Sunday Schools, and I want this dear church of ours to get more of that good. The Commission will make a report to this council and outline a plan of action. They know they have my interest and approval; they can feel sure that they can count on my hearty support.

I am much encouraged by the work and growth of the Woman's Parochial and Missionary Society of the Diocese. I suggested the changes in the concerted woman's work in the Diocese after much thought and some hesitation. I am glad to say that these changes have worked well. All the women of the Diocese are more interested in the work of the Diocese, feel more clearly that each one is a part of the whole, and they are rightly coming to think that the council, specially Woman's Day, is the center of interest in the year's work and the place for delegates from each one of their organizations. I am expecting great things from the organized interest, effort and enthusiasm of the women of the Diocese.

In looking outside the Diocese, my friends, I would call your attention to two things. The first is the movement for the raising of a fund of $5,000,000 for the pensioning of the aged Clergy. Led by the Diocese of Los Angeles, urged on by the zeal of Dr. J. J. Wilkins, the General Convention in Richmond appointed a Commission for that good purpose. I am one of its members and am deeply interested in its good work. How can it be otherwise with any Bishop? It is not one of the distresses of his life to see the suffering, the great struggle, the patient endurance of his Clergy, after they have passed the age of effective work? Is it not one of his problems, if not his hardest problem to relieve a Parish from the burden of an aged inefficient Rector, who has done good work in his prime, and yet take care of this faithful servant of his Church and her Lord? And should not this great matter interest every layman, every earnest son and daughter of the Church? It should interest you as a matter of importance to your Parish; for you do not know when you in the Parish will have to face the perpexing problem to which I have just referred. It should interest you as a matter of loyalty for the efficiency of the church in her great work; for like all the great organizations to-day, the Church can do her work today so much better if she can pension off her aged servants and put in their places young and vigorous men. It should interest you as a matter of sympathy for men in need; for men who have been associated with the dearest and sweetest incidents in your life. The young Clergyman is the sympathetic comrade of the boys and girls in their games and amusements, unconsciously toning them up to higher levels. Later, as they stand before him man and woman grown, he makes them man and wife, and bestows the Priest's blessing and the friend's hearty congratulation. He holds their crowing babe in his arms, pours on the cleansing water of Holy Baptism and makes it a member of Christ a child of Gold. He drops into their home from time to time to share their joys and confidences. When affliction falls, when the perplexities of life confuse, this hopeful friend is at hand to soften the blow, this wise counselor is near to clear the vision for right and duty. When the sorrow of sorrows comes, when the husband or wife goes forth into the other world, it is the loving pastor who sits beside the stricken one, soothing, comforting, turning the mind and heart toward that other happier life where they two shall be one again. And when at last our own summons comes, when our own strength fails and eyes grow dim, it is the faithful friend and Priest, whose hands clasp our own, whose consoling cheering words light us through the valley of the shadows. Who can measure the debt we owe to such men? Brethren, we must do something,something more than the pitiful things we have been doing for this Clergy Relief; It is to my mind the work of the American Church today. I would love to see this Council put forward Christmas Day as the day for an offering for this great work, to have every Rector brush all other offerings aside and unite loyally in making this the work of the Church in the Diocese for that great day. I would love to see some society in every Parish working all the year in this concern.

The other matter is one of interest to our own Church and to all Christain people. It is the Miss'onary enthusiasm and the missionary determination as best expressed by the Laymen's Missionary Movement. Intimately connected with it, pervading it all through, is the spirit of unity; for it means Christian men coming together in an attitude of love and forbearance, eager to sink personal, party and sectrain differences in furthering the great and fundamental work of the Gospel. The great meeting last year in Philadelphia and this year in Canada, with meetings all over the country between times, the magnificent campaign mapped out for the coming year, fill all Christian men with inspiration and hope. Men, busy men, leaders in every line of successful business enterprise, coming together from far distances, at great cost and trouble, sinking their own in the King's business, considering missionary advance and discussing the extension of the Kingdom of God on earth as a great practical enterprise for strong men to engage in and push to a speedy conclusion:—these things lift the cause of missions above the pitiable plight of dependence on the pennies of women and children and the half contemptuous doles of unwilling and half doubting men; these things lift up to earnest, wise and practical men this work as worthy of their deepest thought and best effort, and make them look on it as the vision of the King, the living God, leading His human hosts to victory over sin and ignorance and death. Ah! men of East Carolina, we must join in that movement; we must look on that great cause in its true light; we must share in the joy of the battle and claim our part in the glory of the victory.

FLESH-FORMING FOOD.

When you buy a package of Samose, the great flesh-forming food, weigh yourself and see how much you gain in the first week's use J. Hicks Bunting will tell of many of his customers who a month or so ago were thin, pale and haggard, but who are now, through the use of Samose, plump, strong and happy, with perfect health and attractive flesh. He has seen so many instances of the wonderful power of Samose to restore the weak and sick to strength and health ,and to make good natural flesh that he gives his personal guarantee with every package of Samose he sells to refund the money if it does not prove satisfactory.

Samose is a pure preparation, and can be used with absolute confidence by the most delicate. It gives remarkable results with children who are weak and run down and without appetite. It builds up the thin, pale, puny girl and woman to perfect plumptness and health. It is the only flesh-forming food of its kind and in addition, it strengthens every organ of the body, restoring strength and health to the whole system.

"Understand me, I'm on the square. So think it over and don't go up in the air like a skyrocket."

She cried out at him "Go—go—go!" and finally he took up his bundle, saying as he stepped out slowly:

"All right! But I'm coming back, and you'll have to listen to me. I don't mind being called a squaw man. You're pretty near white, and you're good enough for me. I'll treat you right. Why, I'll even marry you if you're dead set on it. Sure!"

She could scarcely breathe, but checked her first inclination to call Poleon, knowing that it needed only a word from her to set that nut brown savage at Runnion's throat. Other thoughts began to crowd her brain and to stifle her. The fellow's words had stabbed her consciousness and done something for her that gentler means would not have accomplished. They had opened her eyes to a thing that she had forgotten—a hideous thing that had reared its fangs once before to strike, but that her dreams of happiness had driven out of her Eden. All at once she saw the wrong that had been done her and realized from this brute's insult that those early fears had been well grounded. It suddenly occurred to her that in all the hours she had spent with her lover, in all those unspeakably sweet and intimate hours, there had never been one word of marriage. He had looked into her eyes and vowed he could not live without her, and yet he had never said the words he should have said, the words that would bind her to him. His arms and his lips had comforted her and stilled her fears; but, after all, he had merely made love. A cold fear crept over the girl. She recalled the old corporal's words of a few weeks ago, and her conversation with Stark came back to her. What if it were true—that which Runnion implied? What if he did not intend to ask her, after all? What if he had only been amusing himself? She cried out sharply at this, and when Doret staggered in beneath a great load of skins he found her in a strange excitement. When he had finished his accounting with the Indian and dismissed him she turned an agitated face to the Frenchman.

"Poleon," she said, "I'm in trouble. Oh, I'm in such awful trouble!"

"It's dat Runnion! I seen 'im pass on de store w'ile I'm down below." His brows knit in a black scowl, and his voice slid off a pitch in tone. "W'at he say, eh?"

"No, no; it's not that. He paid me a great compliment." She laughed harshly. "Why, he asked me to marry him." The man beside her cursed at this, but she continued: "Don't blame him for liking me. I'm the only woman for 500 miles around—or I was until this crowd came—so how could he help himself? No; he merely showed me what a fool I've been."

"I guess you better tell me all 'bout dis t'ing," said Poleon gravely. "You know I'm all tam' ready for help you, Necia. W'en you was little feller an' got bust your finger you run to me queeck, an' I feex it."

"Yes, I know, dear Poleon," she assented gratefully. "You've been a brother to me, and I need you now more than I ever needed you before. I can't go to father. He wouldn't understand, or else he would understand too much and spoil it all, his temper is so quick. Don't think I'm unwomanly, Poleon, for I'm not. I may be foolish and faithful and too trusting, but I'm not—unmaidenly. You see, I've never been like other girls, and he was so fine, so different, he made me love him. It's part of a soldier's training, I suppose. It was so sweet to be near him and to hear him tell of himself and all the world he knows. I just let myself drift. I'm afraid—I'm afraid I listened too well and my ears heard more than he said. My head is so full of books, you know."

"He should have know' dat, too," said Poleon.

"Yes," she flared up. "He knew I was only an Indian girl."

The only color in Doret's face lay now in his cheeks, where the sun had put it, but he smiled at her—his warm, engaging smile—and laid his great brown hand upon her shoulder softly.

"I've look' in bees eye an' I'm always t'ink he's good man. I don' never t'ink he'll mak' fun of poor little gal."

"But he has, Poleon. That's just what he has done." She came near to breaking down and finished pathetically, "They're telling the story on the street, so Runnion says."

"Dat's easy t'ing for feex," he said. "Runnion she don' spread no more story lak' dat."

"I don't care what they say. I want the truth. I want to know what he means, what his intentions are. He swears he loves me, and yet he has never asked me to marry him. He has gone too far. He has made a fool of me to amuse himself, and—and I couldn't see it until today. He's laughing at me, Poleon; he's laughing at me now! Oh, I can't bear it!"

The Frenchman took up his wide hat from the counter and placed it carefully upon his head, but she stopped him as he moved toward the door, for she read the meaning of the glare in his eyes.

"Wait till you understand—wait, I say! He hasn't done anything yet."

"Dat's de trouble. I'm goin' mak' 'im do somet'in'."

"No, no! It isn't that. It's these doubts that are killing me. I'm not sure"—

"I hear plaintee," he said. "Dere's no tam' for monkey roun'."

"I tell you he may be honest," she declared. "He may mean to marry me, but I've got to know. That's why I came to you. That's what you must find out for me."

"I'm good trader, Necia," said the Canadian after a moment. "I'll mak' bargain wit' you now. If he say yes he'll marry you I don' ask no more, but if he say no you geeve 'im to me. Is it go?"

She hesitated, while he continued musingly, "I don' see how no man on all dis worl' could lef' you go," then to her, "Waal, is it bargain?"

"Yes," she said, the Indian blood speaking now, "but you must learn the truth. There must be no mistake. That would be terrible."

"Dere ain' goin' be no mistak'."

"If he should refuse I—I'll marry some one quick. I won't be laughed at by this camp. I won't be a joke. Oh, Poleon! I've given myself to him just as truly as if—well, he—he has taken my first kiss."

Doret smote his hands together at this and began to roll his head backward from side to side as if in some great pain, but his lips were dry and silent. After a moment the spell left him, the fire died down, leaving only a dumb agony in its place. She came closer and continued:

"I'll never let them point at me and say, 'There goes the squaw that—he threw away.'"

"You mak' dis very hard t'ing for me," he said wearily.

"Listen," she went on, lashing herself with pity and scorn. "You say Father Barnum will be here on Sunday. Well, I'll marry some one, I don't care who!" Then, with a sudden inspiration, she cried: "I'll marry you. You said I could be a wife to you!"

He uttered a sharp cry. "You mean dat, Necia?"

"Yes," she declared. "Why not? You'll do it for my sake, won't you?"

"Would you stan' up wit' me 'longside of de pries', lovin' dat oder feller all de tam'?" he asked queerly.

"Yes, yes! I'd rather it was you than anybody, but married I'll be on Sunday. I'll never let them laugh at me."

Doret held his silence for a moment; then he looked up and said in level tones:

"It's easy t'ing for go an' ask 'im, but you mus' hear hees answer wit' your own ears; den you can't t'ink I'm lyin'. I'll fetch 'im 'ere on dis place if you feex it for hide you'se'f behin' dose post." He indicated a bundle of furs that were suspended against a pillar and that offered ample room for concealment. "Dere's goin' be no lies today."

He pulled himself together and went out with the tired gait of an old man, his great shock head bowed low. A few moments later he returned.

"I've sent li'l' Jean for 'im. You get in dere out of sight—an' wait."

CHAPTER XII.

TANGLED SKEIN.

WHEN Burrell entered he wasted no time in greetings.

"I know why you sent for me, Poleon. I've heard the news, and I would have been up anyhow to congratuate her very soon. I call it pretty fine."

"Yes, dere's been beeg strike all right, an' Necia is goin' be riche gal."

"I'm as pleased as if the claim were mine, and you feel the same way, of course."

"You know me for good man, eh? An' you know I ain' try for bre'k up oder fellers' bisnesse, never! Waal, I'm come to you now lak wan good man to 'noder, biccause I'm got bad trouble on de min', an' you mus'n't get sore."

"There's no danger, Poleon. Let's have it. If there is anything I can do you may count on me."

"Waal," he began nervously, clearing his throat, "it's lak dis. Dere's feller been talk some 'bout Necia, an' it ain' nice talk neider."

"Who is he?" exclaimed the soldier in a tone that made the girl's heart leap.

"Wait! Lemme tol' you w'at he say: den we'll talk 'bout feex 'im plaintee. He say dere's joke down on Stark's saloon dat Necia Gale is mak' fool of herse'f on you an' dat you ain' care for marry her."

"Runnion!" cried Burrell and started for the door. "I'll settle with him now for fair!" But Poleon blocked his way and, observing him gravely, continued in a tone that the other could not disregard nor mistake:

"No, m'sieu. Before you pass on dat place you'll tol' me if it's true."

"True!" the lieutenant retorted angrily. "What business is it of yours? This concerns me."

"An' me too! I'm w'at you call gardeen for Necia till John Gale come back, an' I'm broder of her too. You promis' jus' now you don' get mad, an' I don' say she's Runnion neider w'at spik dose t'ing. Dere's more dan 'im been talkin'. Is it true?"

His sternness offended Burrell, for the soldier was not the kind to discuss his affairs in this way; therefore he drew back, scowling.

"Poleon Doret," he said, "it's not one's enemies who do him injury; it's his d——d fool friends. I have learned to regard you highly, because you are a brave man and an honest one, but it seems that you are a sentimental idiot."

"Dem is tough word," Doret replied. "But dere's reason w'y I can't tak' on no madness. You say I'm hones'. Waal, I'm hones' now, an' I come to you wit' fair words, an' I show my han' to you—I don' hol' out no cards, m'sieu'—but I don' t'ink it is you who have play square altogeder. I'm Necia's frien', an' I'll fight for her jus' so queecker lak you, but I mus' know dis t'ing for sure, so if you have de good heart an' de courage of good man you'll tell me de truth. Do you have the feelin' for marry on her?"

The pause that followed was awkward for both of them, while the girl, who stood concealed near by, held her breath and buried her nails in her palms. Why did he hesitate? Would he never speak?

"I am amazed at myself for listening to you," he said at last, "and quite shocked, in fact, at my answering your questions, but perhaps I'd better, after all. First, however, let me say that the little girl is just as pure now as she was before she knew me."

Poleon threw up his hand. "M'sieu, dat's more closer to de insult dan w'at you call me jus' now. You don' need for spoke it."

"You're right. There's no need to tell you that. As for showing her certain attentions—well, I admit that I have, as you know; but, thank God, I can say I've been a gentleman and addressed her as I would the fairest lady I've known."

"An' you mean for marry, eh?" probed the other.

"I did not say so," Burrell declared at last. "It's a thing I can't discuss, because I doubt if you could understand what I would say. This life of yours is different from mine, and it would be useless for me to explain the reason why I cannot marry her. Leaving out all question of my sentiment, there are insurmountable obstacles to such a union. But, as to this talk, I think that can be stopped without annoyance to her, and, as for the rest, we must trust to time to bring about a proper adjustment"—

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman.

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MOLDAN, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

Why Not Have Beautiful Hair?

Beautiful Hair is now within the reach of every woman who will use

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The Original Remedy That Kills the Dandruff Germ.

Herpicide is the only remedy that strikes at the very root of hair trouble by destroying the dandruff germ, after which the hair is bound to resume its natural beauty and abundance.

The wonderful success of Newbro's Herpicide has brought out many preparations claiming to kill the dandruff germ. There is but one genuine dandruff germ destroyer and all other remedies, making such a claim, hope to trade upon the reputation of genuine Herpicide.

Just begin the use of Newbro's Herpicide in secret and see how soon your friends will notice the improvement in your hair.

A Pennsylvania woman, whose hair is of extreme length and beauty, writes: "I find that by the continued use of Herpicide my hair is growing longer and thicker than ever before."

Don't waste your money on new and untried remedies that claim to equal Herpicide when you can buy the original and genuine article at any drug store. Herpicide stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Send 10 cents in stamps to THE HERPICIDE Company, Dept. 21, Detroit, Mich., for sample and booklet. One Dollar Bottles Guaranteed. At Drug Stores. When you call for Herpicide, do not accept a substitute. Applications at Prominent Barber Shops.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Chicago, May 29.—The famous "deal" in May wheat came to an unostentatious end today at the close of a session marked by no more enthusiasm than is manifested on any ordinary day. Only one price—$1.34—was quoted for that delivery throughout the entire day which is 1 1-4 below the best mark for the season recorded last Tuesday, and one cent above the final figures of the previous session. The market closed irregular, the nearby delivery being firm, while the more distant options were inclined to be weak. Corn and provisions closed firm and oats irregular.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Two gentlemen from Scotland are at Greenville looking into conditions of Pitt county with a view of locating a number of thrifty people of their country there.

—The Ross Lumber Company, of Lillington, has been organized, succeeding the McAllistel-Ross Lumber Company. J. D. Ross, cashier of the Bank of Randolph, is president. The election in Carteret county for roads and bridges resulted in defeat for the project.

—Rocky Mount, May 28.—At the meeting of the directors of the Bank of Rocky Mount held in the offices of that banking institution yesterday afternoon a 3 per cent. semi-annual dividend was declared in addition to the bringing up and passing upon all business that was to come before the meeting. This dividend is of the usual size as that declared by this banking institution during the past several years and it shows this firm to be upon a most firm footing and doing a consistent and flourishing business.

—Jefferson, May 28.—This has been a rather late spring in this section of the State and heavy frosts have not been infrequent. Much of the fruit crop is killed, but there remains some of the hardier fruits, such as apples and cherries. The cherry trees in the streets of Jefferson have only a light crop, enough, however, to give a supply to the people of the town. The apple crop over the county is also cut short. The largest corn crop in many years of farming in Ashe county has been pitched.

—The Hannah-Pickett mill stockholders of Rockingham have authorized $70,000 bonds for the addition of 5,000 spindles to the factory ,increasing capacity 50 per cent. The building will be enlarged and several new houses built for operatives. The Anglo-Saxon says that the yarn market for the past twelve months has been very unsatisfactory but the Hannah-Pickett mills have been steadily running without loss of time or money to stockholders and employes, showing that the company has highly efficient management.

—Sheriff Hinson and Deputy Sheriff Shores, of Richmond county, went down on the State Line Tuesday and catured an illicit whiskey still of 100 gallons capacity. The still was not in operation and had probably just been brought over from Marlboro count, S. C., says the Rockingham Anglo-Saxon. No one was found near the still. The same officers Wednesday located another still in the Pee Dee hills, 15 miles north of Rockingham but the owners had got word and decamped with the still, leaving seven stands of beer which were destroyed. The fire in the furnace was not cold when the officers arrived.

—Salisbury Post: The Post is requested to direct the attention of the charitably disposed to the distressing situation of Mrs. John Brown, a widow living on South Jackson street. The woman has three children, the oldest of which is but four. The others are twin girls of a year, and Mrs. Brown is unable to provide for them. In her desperate plight she is willing to give her babies to any reliable person who will take them. In the meantime the unfortunate woman is suffering for the actual necessities of life, we are told, and her case is one that should appeal to all who have with which to give.

—Boone, May 28.—Mr. Ranson Coffey, an aged citizen of Blue Ridge township, was found dead yesterday near the roadside on the head of the Elk. He had been visiting some of his relatives at this place and had started on his return home. A Mr. Triplett, noticing a strange mulein his field, went to turn it outside and recognized it as Mr. Coffey's. Thinking strange of the animal having the saddle on he told his wife to go to one of the neighbor's and inquire if they had seen anything of the old gentleman while he went to ask another neighbor, On her way Mrs. Triplett came upon the old man sitting in a fence corner dead. The coroner was called and the verdict of the jury was that he died of heart failure.

—Raleigh News and Observer: There has appeared in various papers an item which sets out that Governor Kitchin has "evened up" in non-partisan appointments to office with President Taft in naming two Republicans for game wardens in North Carolina. These items were called to Governor Kitchin's attention yesterday, and he said that he is not entitled to, and does not claim the credit for arising above partisan politics in the appointment of the two game wardens in Cabarrus county who are reported in the newspapers to be Republicans, for the simple reason that the Governor has no power to select game wardens, but is required to commission such game wardens as are recommended by the Audubon Society.

BASE BALL

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

National League.

Cincinnati, May 29.—Cincinnati and St. Louis won one game each in today's double-header. The first game went to the visitors, principally because of the wildness of Fromme.

In the second game Cincinnati drove Rhodes off the rubber in the second inning, his successor, Moore, being taken out in the fifth.

Cincinnati .....100 100 000—2 6 0
St. Louis .....010 100 200—4 8 2

Fromme, Gasper and Roth; Beebe and Bresnahan. Time 2:15. Umpires Rigler and Truby.

Second game:—

Cincinnati .....140 500 01x—11 14 1
St. Louis .....000 000 101— 2 10 2

Campbell, Chappelle and Roth and Pearce; Rhodes, Moore, Higgins and Bresnahan and Bliss. Time 1:50. Umpires Rigler and Truby.

New York, May 29.—The locals were beaten today by Philadelphia 3 to 2, the visitors getting the winning count in the seventh on hits by Knabe and Grant and Bridwell's error.

New York .....000 020 000—2 6 3
Philadelphia ....001 100 100—3 7 1

Raymond and Schlei; Sparks, Moore and Dooin. Time 2:05. Umpire, O'Day.

Pittsburg, May 29.—President Taft, Secretary of State Knox and other notables here in connection with the convention of the Associated Western Yale Clubs today witnessed the most exciting game played at exposition park this season, Chicago defeating the locals in the 11th inning 8 to 3.

In the seventh when Pittsburg tied the score the President became quite excited. He joked with and teased his brother C. P. Taft, who was rooting for the visitors. Secretary of State Knox rooted hard for the home team, having a wager with C. P. Taft that Pittsburg would win. Chicago won in the 11th by getting five runs on five hits.

Pittsburg ....020 000 100 00—3 9 0
Chicago .....000 003 000 05—8 14 4

Liefield and Gibson; Brown and Moran. Time 2:15. Umpires Johnstone and Cusack.

Boston, May 29.—Brooklyn won two uninteresting games from Boston today, each by the same score—4 to 1. Boston has now lost 13 consecutive games.

Brooklyn .....010 030 000—4 5 0
Boston .....000 000 001—1 7 1

Second game:—

Brooklyn .....002 100 100—4 6 0
Boston .....000 100 000—1 6 2

Wilhelm and Bergen; Ferguson and Smith. Time 1:42. Umpire Klem.

American League.

Washington, May 29.—New York bunched four hits on Johnson in the sixth inning of today's game and with the assistance of a muff by Milan defeated Washington 4 to 2. The baserunning of Clymer was the feature of the game.

Washington ....010 000 100—2 6 3
New York .....000 030 010—4 7 3

Johnson and Street; Lake, Brockett and Kleinow. Time 2:05. Umpires Conolly and Hurst.

Philadelphia, May 29.—Boston was beaten twice by Philadelphia today. In the first game the home team scored five runs off Arellanes in the first inning on a pass and four hits including a home run by Baker, the latter's hit being the first drive made over the rightfield wall at Shibe Park. In the second game Philadelphia bunched hits off Chech.

Philadelphia ....500 000 10x—6 9 0
Boston .....002 000 000—2 4 0

Krause and Thomas; Arellanes, Ryan and Carrigan. Time 1:44. Umpires Egan and Sheridan.

Lived 152 Years.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80. James Wright, of Spurlock, Ky., shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a 16-year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years Kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They're a godsend to weak, sickly run-down or old people. Try them. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

The Railroaders Win.

Rocky Mount N. C., May 29.—Hits, a sacrifice and an error followed by a long sacrifice hit in deep centerfield broke up the game between the Goldsboro Giants and the locals in the 12th inning and turned victory to the Railroaders by a score of two to one today. Otis was in the pit for the visitors and Forbes for locals. Both men were erratic at times but refused to yield hits when they meant runs. By the afternoon's game the crew got away with the big end of the horn of the series and makes it four won out of the six games this week. Score:
